Visitors on Grandparents Day at Sandy Elementary School last week included Violet Fahey, left, of San Diego, and Lois Ouderkirk, center, of Portland. Also pictured is Craig Ragan, son of Gary and Joan Ragan of Sandy, and Margaret Ouderkirk, daughter of Craig and JoAnne Van Horn, also of Sandy. Fahey came to Sandy just for the occasion. "I said no at first," she said, "but they kept after me till I came." Fahey said she enjoyed the day.

House candidate to be in Sandy

State Representative candidate Bob Shiprack will make several campaign stops in the Sandy area in the coming days.

Friday, April 9, Shiprack will have lunch with senior citizens at the Sandy Loaves and Fishes at the Sandy Senior Center.

He will be at the Sandy

Community Center this Saturday, April 10, at 10 a.m. to meet with local citizens and next Tuesday, April 13, he will visit Sandy High School to discuss students' role in state level government.

Shiprack also announced that his committee has been formed for his District 23 race.

Working for Shiprack are Sharon Taylor, campaign coordinator; Terry Connell, financial advisor; Jodine Shiprack, treasurer; Erik Wilk, fundraising and targeting, and Matt Walters, volunteer coordinator.

Shiprack graduated from

Portland State University with a bachelor's degree in social science and a focus on economics and political science.

The Beavercreek electrician is a delegate to Clackamas County labor council and state building trades.
