

Chimney fires keep Hoodland Rural busy

by MICHAEL P. JONES
Post Correspondent

Chimney fires and poor road conditions kept the Hoodland Rural Fire Department busy the past two weeks.

On April 4 the department responded to a fire at a Sleepy Hollow residence at 10:10 p.m.

On April 2 at 7:25 a.m.

the department rendered assistance at a non-injury accident on Highway 26 near Snow Bunny Lodge.

An Oregon State Police spokesperson said that bad driving conditions, due to snow and high winds, was determined to be the cause of the accident. In that accident a tractor-trailer jackknifed and blocked traffic for a short period of time. Later that morning poor weather conditions were the cause of another non-injury accident at Mile Post 50 on Highway 26.

The department responded to a report of smoke at a residence on Cottonwood drive near Brightwood. Upon arrival crews discovered the source of the smoke to be a stovepipe blocked with creosote. On March 24 the department assisted the Oregon State Forestry Service with a brush fire in the Cedar Ridge area, just off Highway 26 near Miller Road in the Brightwood area.

Fire Chief Don Armintrout said that crews responded at 2:20 p.m. to the brush fire, which was burning in an area that is used as an illegal dump for tires and trash.

Armintrout said that two engines, one tanker, and a brush rig, aided the state crew in extinguishing the blaze. He said that the fire burned an estimated one and a half acres, and is still under investigation. In the past three weeks over 20 persons have been assisted with minor first aid by fire department personnel.

Spring concert set for April 14 at Welches

Welches Grade School will hold its spring concert at 7:30 p.m. in the multipurpose room of the school's new building.

The concert will feature the school's beginning band. The concert will be directed by Tim McCarthy, music teacher.

They will be accompanied by the seventh and eighth grade chorus, performing songs by artists such as Dan Fogelberg, Air Supply and Journey.

The students will also perform original compositions by McCarthy, who will accompany on the guitar.

Board to rehear hydro case

The Minikahda mini-hydroelectric project will go back before the Board of County Commissioners on Monday, April 12, in a rehearing of the project's conditional use permit.

The project is being proposed by Paul Sanders of Zigzag, who is proposing to construct the hydro facility in the Crutcher's Bench area near the junction of Lolo Pass Road and the Barlow Trail Road.

The Minikahda project has undergone a number of hearings after first being denied by a hearing officer on Oct. 29, who ruled that the project was in violation of the existing zoning and development ordinances that restrict development on slopes in excess of 25 percent. Parts of Sanders' project was to be constructed on slopes in excess of 35 percent.

Sanders appealed the hearing officer's decision to the county commission on Jan. 6. His attorney argued that steep slopes are necessary for hydroelectric production and that slope violations should not be not applied to such projects.

The State Department of Energy agreed with Sanders and argued that the ordinance had not been drafted with hydros in mind.

The commissioners denied Sanders his permit until the ordinance could be amended to allow hydro facilities to be constructed on such slopes.

Final approval of the amended slope ordinance will be made prior to rehearing the Minikahda project.

The project is scheduled to be heard in the morning session and will be held in the Commissioners Chambers in the Courthouse Annex, 906 Main Street, in Oregon City.

Senior Center News:

Center members plan for cruise to Alaska

A seminar on defensive driving for persons 55 and older is planned for the near future by the Sandy Senior Center.

Sponsored by AARP, a trained instructor will conduct the two-day class tentatively scheduled for late May. A $5 fee will be charged for materials.

Seniors who complete this course may be eligible for a reduction in automobile insurance premiums. For more information concerning this type of credit program, contact your insurance agent.

The center is currently renting tables to persons interested in selling items at a spring bazaar to be held on May 7 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Persons who wish to reserve a table for this event are asked to call Edith Weidman at 668-6501.

A seven-day cruise aboard the Cunard Princess is planned for members of the Sandy Senior Center to depart Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 10. The cruise will take passengers through the Inland Passage of Alaska, including Glacier Bay, and will feature stops at Ketchikan, Juneau, and Sitka. For more information, contact the Sandy Senior Center at 668-5569.

The Pionaires, a vocal group from Sandy Union High School, will be the center's special guests next Thursday, April 15. The students will sing a variety of popular tunes under the direction of Bruce Scarth, following the Loaves and Fishes meal.
