Lecturers tap Sandy man

A Sandy man has been named to membership in the International Platform Association, the professional association of the U.S. lecture platform.

Harold M. Wynne, associate director of development and public relations at Portland Adventist Medical Center, was elected into the group by the board of governors in Cleveland, Ohio.

Wynne, 1856 SE 362nd Drive, has been a Sandy resident for 10 years. He is a member of the Sandy Seventh-day Adventist Church. He is also an accredited member of Public Relations Society of America; a member of Kiwanis Club of Mount Scott and Society for Professional Journalists.

He graduated from University of Colorado with a bachelor's degree in journalism and from Loma Linda University with a master's degree in secondary education (journalism).

The International Platform Association is a non-partisan organization founded 151 years ago by Daniel Webster and Josiah

Holbrook.

The IPA is the club and professional association of those in and out of political life who appear before audiences in all media and of the officials and program chairmen of organizations that choose speakers for their audiences. It is the professional association of the U.S. lecture platform.

Adventists plan day for get-together

Community Guest Day at the Sandy Seventh-day Adventist Church, 17150 University Ave., will be held this Saturday, May 1, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Sabbath School, 9:30-11 a.m., will feature a special mission presentation of the church's work in Belgium, just one of 190 countries in which the church is presently working.

Also featured will be group discussions on issues of great importance and relevance to contemporary Christians, according to organizers.

Following Sabbath School, a presentation of the annual Community Service Award Plaque will be made to Sandra Potter Marquardt, director of the Sandy Senior Center, for her service to the Sandy community.

Following Pastor Bernell Clark's message, "The Power of the Cross," there will be a Friendship Dinner provided for all guests in the Community Service Center building.

Joanne Wallace

Baptists set banquet for daughters

The public is invited to attend a Daughters Banquet next Friday, May 7, at 6:30 p.m. at Sandy Baptist Church, 33495 SE J. Jarl Road.

Guest speaker will be Joanne Wallace, founder of the nationally known Image Improvement Corporation which she began in 1969.

The basis for her course is taken from Genesis 1:26-27: "We are made in the image of God."

For reservations, call Barbara Hill at 668-6647 evenings, or Nona Marshall at 668-5322.
