Group earns top honors

Members of the Sandy Pathfinder Club participated in the annual Northern Oregon Seventh-day Adventist Pathfinder Fair May 9 at the Multnomah County Expo Center.

The all-day event featured club exhibits, a parade complete with marching units from each club and floats, drill team exhibitions and contests for club members. More than 1,000 club members and staff participated in the events. Coming from communities as far south as Corvallis, the 45 clubs which participated were eligible for points which ranked them according to achievement for the year's activities. A first-place award was given to the Sandy club for total points accumulated during the year.

Theme for this year's fair was "Doing Our Best." Among contests which members participated were map symbol identification, first-aid bandaging and camp cooking.

Local club director is Bill Regula, of Southeast Portland.

Local student elected

Ellen Lamm, a 1977 graduate of Sandy Union High School, was recently elected ASB second vice president of Northwest College of the Assemblies of God in Kirkland, Wash.

The 23-year-old is majoring in biblical literature and minoring in communications and preaching. She will receive her bachelor's degree in the spring of 1983.

Northwest College is a four-year Bible college and a two-year junior college. It is fully accredited. It has an enrollment of approximately 700 students.

The main function of the office of ASB second vice president is to serve as social chairman of all student activities on campus. Lamm is the first woman to hold the office at the school.

She is also a member of a women's trio, Praisong, which was selected to travel for the summer throughout Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Alaska

Concert aids new church day school

Recording artist Paul Thorson will perform in benefit concert June 4 at Sam Barlow High School.

Proceeds from the one-time performance will aid the Good Shepherd Community Church Day School which will open at the new church site on Haley Road in Boring next year. Currently the church group meets at Barlow.

The 7:30 p.m. concert will also feature the children who now attend the school with a special song Thorson wrote that has been specially choreographed for them. Admission will be $3.

BPW officers slated for Wednesday fete

Newly-elected officers of the Sandy Business and Professional Women's Club will be installed by State Federation president Margaret Young next Wednesday, June 2, at a 7 p.m. dinner meeting at the Garden Village Restaurant, 290 NE Roberts St., Gresham.

Rosella Bourgo, president; Robert Kennedy, vice president; Kim Nelson, recording secretary; Chris MacDonald, corresponding secretary, and Lani Staab, treasurer, will be installed at the dinner.

Becky Rodriguez was named winner of the BPW scholarship which was presented at the award assembly at Sandy Union High School last week.

Chris MacDonald was appointed district director of the North Willamette District at the state convention in Klamath Falls recently, which seven local members attended.

Other local appointments announced were Florence Schmitz, editor of Oregon Business Woman, Political Action Committee, History of BPW in Oregon Committee; Ruth Baumbach, associate editor of Oregon Business Woman, and Lani Staab, State Membership Committee.
