Bollermann, Sheppard keep on bikin'

Damian Bollermann, a 1981 SUHS graduate, won the 6.5-mile Rose Festival Classic bicycle race last weekend at Delta Park.

He won the novice division with a time of 17:00.

Bollermann rode a bicycle he designed and built himself.

He felt he did "all right," but is planning on faster times in the future. He said there were a lot of hills on the course. Also, someone fell in front of him midway through the race, causing him to have a minor wreck.

Mike Sheppard, an SUHS student, finished fifth overall in the licensed division this weekend.

There are three classes of racers, which include novice, licensed and professional. There are no professional racers in Oregon.

About 30 competed in the 13-mile licensed race Sunday.

This weekend Sheppard will be competing in the Oregon State Road Championships. This is his last year to compete in the junior division and he'd like to go out with a first-place finish, but he reports the competition will be tough.

Sheppard competed in the Oregon State Track Championships the weekend before last. It was held at the Alpenrose Veldrome, located in the Corvallis area. The Road Championships will also be held at the Alpenrose Veldrome.

At the Road Championships Sheppard was three seconds off the track record, set by a national (United States Cycling Federation) champion.

He qualified for nationals, winning the 3000-meter pursuit with a time of 4:07.23.

The national competition will be held in Wisconsin.

His sponsor, Cycle Craft of Portland, will pay for his trip to the competition.

For training Sheppard rides about 200 miles a week, and has logged 2,300 miles this spring.

Others do well, too

Dodson's Store fifth; 'Dr. Swat' an all-star

This weekend proved to be a big one for Sandy Recreation League men's teams.

Tournament City in Redmond was the site of a 24-team Class E tournament in which a Sandy team took home hardware.

Dodson's Bargain Store finished fifth, having lost only to the eventual champions, Beckmans of Tualatin, 7-5, and to the third-place finishers, Portland Outdoor Store, 8-3.

Dodson's record for the two-day outing was 4-2.

Don Dodson, alias Dr. Swat, was chosen to the all-star team by tournament officials. He batted .756 for the tournament.

Ron's No Place had a hard time getting on track its first game, and was soundly defeated.

They recovered quickly, however, thrashing their next opponents 14-3.

They were knocked out of the competition in the third game, ending up with a 1-2 record.

Paola's Pizza Barn has struggled all season, but may have found something during the two losses. Fellow league-mates report having seen a better team than ever play.

Buckboard Pizza had an early 3-0 lead over La Barons of Newport in its first game. Mick Seem had led the way with a hot bat.

La Barons, however, took over the momentum and came back for a 10-5 win.

In the second game, against The Stars of Eugene, Buckboard fell behind 15-5, but in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings its bats got hot and the defense held as Buckboard won 16-15.

The third game was almost a repeat of the game against Eugene, except that Buckboard failed to get the extra two runs in the seventh and fell to Clearwater, 12-11.

Buckboard team members expressed thanks to family, friends and other Sandy team members who endured the "very cold and windy weather" to show support.
