Moonlight sale July 8

Sandy Area Merchants are sponsoring the Mountain Festival parade Thursday, July 8, as lead-in to their big, annual moonlight sale 8 p.m. after the parade.

The festival parade has grown to one of the largest parades in the state under the wing of Mountain Festival committee organizers and SAM, retail promotion group of the Sandy Chamber of Commerce.

The traditional post-parade moonlight sale also has become one of the biggest sales events in the area, with sidewalk bargains, doorprizes, and free refreshments at many participating stores.

Some Sandy stores plan to dress clerks in western attire for the sale, in keeping with the festival's pioneer flavor.

Several local businesses plan grand opening or anniversary celebrations during the festival.

Most participating stores will remain open until at least 10 p.m. and begin their sale immediately after the parade, which starts 7 p.m. July 8.
