"Like it just came from the factory!"

That's how your car will look after it's been to Obrist & Cunningham

The Dealership sells it that way - we restore it that way.

Auto body repair is changing these days. Most cars now have unitized bodies (the body is one unit). This mean the body shop must become more sophisticated.

We've kept the pace. Now we have the equipment to restore your vehicle to its factory condition. Our ITEL Audatex Estimating System, for example, uses computer information to see exactly what part needs to be replaced and calculate the cost - in minutes. And our Blackhawk Bench System, which simulates Factory Assembly methods, can restore your vehicle to original Factory Specifications.

All this adds up to a first class auto body repair job done right - the first time.

So, when life's unfortunate accidents occur, bring your vehicle to us for an estimate. Then let us go to work for you. You'll love the final results.

When you want the job done right . . .

Take it to the body & paint specialists.
