

Senior Center News:

Whistler performs Monday

Helen Monroe will entertain Sandy Senior Center members and their guests with a medley of musical selections following the Loaves and Fishes meal this Monday, Oct. 18.

Monroe is an accomplished whistler who has competed in several regional contests throughout the western United States. Her 20-minute repertoire includes romantic and nostalgic songs.

A breakfast of pancakes, sausage and juice will be served this Tuesday morning, beginning at 7:30 a.m. for $1.25 per person. Following the meal, Fred Vogel, pastor at Sandy Baptist Church, will be invited to address the group.

The Sandy Senior Center is currently in need of individuals interested in volunteering several hours weekly to provide clerical assistance on Thursday and Friday afternoons. Duties include answering the telephone, greeting participants and some record-keeping.

Persons are asked to apply with the center office no later than Friday, Oct. 22.

The Sandy Golden Age Club will host a Christmas bazaar and flea market at the senior center Dec. 3. Persons who wish to rent a table for the event may contact Edith Weidman at 668-6501 or the center at 668-5569 to secure a reservation.

BPW examines views for working women

North Willamette District women and guests of the Oregon Federation of Business Women will hear opinions about "What's in View for Today's Working Women?" from experts in the fields of engineering, foreign service, judicial and military at a conference this Saturday, Oct. 16, at Ye Old Town Hall in Canby, according to Director Chris MacDonald.

Speakers at the workshop, from 10 to 11:30 a.m., will be Hildegard Oswald, bridge engineer; Nellie Johnson, attorney; Maj. Frances Tomlinson, Salvation Army, and Lauri Semott, U.S. Army.

Luncheon speaker will be Karen Alvarado who is with the Oregon Correctional Division as director of special programs. She has served in the offices of Patricia Harris, secretary of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and Shirley Hufstetler, secretary of the U.S. Department of Education.

Reservations for the conference should be made with Kimberly Nelson at 668-8131.

The celebration of National Business Women's Week, Oct. 17-23, will begin with a kickoff breakfast at Heidi's Swiss Village this Sunday, Oct. 17, at 9 a.m. That will be followed by group church attendance at 10:30 a.m. at St. Paul of Damascus Lutheran Church.

The Oct. 20 Fireside Meeting will be held at the home of Eula Ten Eyck, 47080 SE Marmot Road, Sandy.

First-aid courses planned at fire hall

The Sandy Fire Department will offer a free Multi-Media First Aid class to the people in the Sandy area this weekend. Two CPR classes will be offered later in the year.

These classes are certified by the American Red Cross and participants will receive a certification card upon successful completion of the course.

CPR certification is good for one year and the Multi-Media card is good for three years.

The Multi-Media class will be offered this Saturday, Oct. 16, beginning at 8 a.m.

The CPR classes will be Nov. 20, beginning at 8 a.m., and Dec. 14 and 16, beginning at 7 p.m. each evening.

All classes last approximately eight hours.

For the December CPR class on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, participants must attend both nights to complete the class.

For more information on these classes or for information on special classes for groups or businesses, call Ron Smith at 668-8093.

Pioneers ponder new name

The Sandy Pioneer Association Inc. will hold its quarterly meeting Sunday, Oct. 24, in the Melvin Haneberg Community Center, 38348 Pioneer Blvd.

The 12:30 p.m. meeting will be a potluck affair.

The association welcomes as new members who are interested in local history. The membership fee is $2.50 per year or $25 for a life membership.

One of the items on the agenda will be a vote to change the name of the organization. The choices are The Sandy Historical Association Inc., The Sandy Pioneer Historical Association Inc., or the present title.

The ultimate goal of the Sandy Pioneer Association is a museum. With a sum of $18,000 on hand and with only memorial donations as an alternate source of income, the association is seeking ways and means of achieving its goal. Any reasonable proposition that might lead to a solution would be appreciated and pursued with interest, according to members.

Those attending the potluck should bring their own table settings.

Retired teachers to travel

The Oregon Retired Educators Association, Unit 23, plan a visit to Fort Vancouver, Wash., next Wednesday, Oct. 20. They will have lunch at the George Marshall house.

Reservations are necessary for the luncheon. The group will meet at 10:45 a.m. in the upper level at the Sandy Community Center to be briefed on the history of the site and to car pool rides.

For more information, call 668-6094.
