

Santa breakfast captures folksy Christmas charm

Santa's coming to town! Jolly Old St. Nick, portrayed by Herb Fenwick, arrives by fire engine 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 4, at Sandy Rexall Drug parking lot.

He ushers in a host of Christmas festivities sponsored by Sandy Area Merchants under the banner, "Christmas in the Country."

Santa will preside over Saturday "breakfast with Santa" 10 a.m. until noon beginning Dec. 4 at Sandy Senior Community Center.

The merchants are hosting this first breakfast, with free admission for kids younger than 12 accompanied by an adult. Adult fare for the continental breakfast is 50 cents.

Pictures with Santa will be available.

Subsequent breakfasts with Santa will be 10 a.m. until noon Dec. 11 at TJ's Fireside and 10 a.m. until noon Dec. 18 at Tollgate Inn.

Local school children are decorating a community tree going up Saturday in the drug store parking lot.

Carolers from Sandy Grade School, Kelso School and Sandy High School will entertain at the three Sandy breakfasts with Santa.

KRDR will perform a live remote radio broadcast this Saturday at the Santa breakfast at Sandy Community Center.

Herb Fenwick will be relieved by perennial Santa figure, Paul Spence, on subsequent appearances by Santa in Sandy. After the breakfasts, Santa will stroll throughout town to greet shoppers and pass out free candy.
