How To Trim Five Years Of Inflation From The Cost Of A Home.

Jay Middleton Design Group No. 2

Just five years ago, a new home cost about a third less than today. And owning one was a lot easier.

But, even today, you can reduce the cost by 15 to 30% or more. By acting as your own general contractor or by building your own home.

Our architectural component system ensures smooth construction and cuts the amount of work significantly.

So, send for more information.

Or just give us a call.

We'll explain how taking an active role in building your own home literally can save you thousands of dollars.

For more design ideas and information, send to Windfield Homes, 10580 S.W. McDONALD ST., BOX 23717 TIGARD, OR 97223 or call 684-2766. OPEN WEEKENDS
