Loreyne Enz

Services for Loreyne Enz of Boring were held Friday, May 24 at the Sandy L.D.S. Chapel. Interment was at Valley View Cemetery in Vale, Ore. Mrs. Enz died at her home on May 22 after a lengthy illness. She was 68.

She was born Alice Loreyne Munson in Parma, Idaho, on March 4, 1917. She was raised in Vale, Ore., where she received her education.

Mrs. Enz and her husband had resided at Boring since 1972. She was a devoted mother and homemaker, and was active in the church and community. Among her hobbies were ceramics, sewing, cooking and reading.

There were two projects she was unable to complete due to her illness. One was a book she was writing on sewing. She was also working on a bachelor's degree from Brigham Young University through a home study program.

She is survived by her husband, Harold; children: Gary Grigg of Arizona, Mark Grigg of Idaho, Craig Heffelfinger of Oregon City, Mark Heffelfinger of Oregon City, Jill Heffelfinger of Portland, Harold Enz Jr. of Washington, Leona Wecker of Gresham; Rosemary Pace of Portland, Leon Enz of Sandy, Rachael Goulter of Portland and Jared Enz of Boring; and many grandchildren.

Sandy Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Jay Spitzer

Eagle Creek resident Jay Spitzer died in Portland on May 25 at the age of 22.

Mr. Spitzer was born in Fresno, Calif., on Dec. 27, 1962. His family moved to Oregon to make their home in the Eagle Creek area, where he received his education at Estacada elementary and high schools.

He loved the outdoor activities of hunting and fishing. He also enjoyed writing poetry and sharing it with others.

Survivors include his daughter, Jennifer Lee Spitzer of Portland; parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Spitzer of Eagle Creek; a sister, Cheryl Taylor of Milwaukie; two brothers, Michael of Colorado and Kevin of Eagle Creek.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, May 29 at the Sandy Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Burial followed at Sandy Ridge Cemetery in Boring.

Sandy Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Meleta Hooley, kneeling, Anita Geyer and Erik Geyer will show they've got the beat during the Geyer School of Dance's "KJAZZ TV" revue, which will be Friday, May 31 at Barlow High School. Their routine is from the show Solid Gold. With eight previous revues to her credit, instructor Anna Geyer feels the shows are getting better every year. There is no charge for admission.

'Sweetheart' wows 'em

Woman gets thrill watching friend

by HELEN MONROE
Wildcat Mountain Whistler

I was filled with thrills of pleasure and excitement recently as I watched the Clarksville, Ark., whistler Lillian Williams — "America's Whistling Sweetheart" — appear live on Jim Bakker's Heritage U.S.A. show out of Charlotte, N.C.

Lillian has been seen by millions on the Johnny Carson show, whipping up a storm of ragtime piano. She has also been a guest of Jim Bosley's on A.M. Northwest. She performed in Philly and in the Ozark Mountain Festival and other places. She takes the crowd by storm at the Carson City, Nev., International Whistle-Off.

But Jim Bakker had the surprise of his life when he interviewed this fast-talking 92-year-old, whom he had never heard of before someone had booked her on his show. The entire week had been directed toward smiles, laughter and TV bloopers of the past. Lu Lu, of Hee Haw fame, was just one of many headliners. She and Lillian won the hearts of everyone.

Jim and Tammy Bakker were flabbergasted when they saw this lovely Arkansas queen — brilliant red chignon full length gown, a huge pink/purple cattalea orchid corsage (from Oregon), flashing rings on her whistling fingers, silver slippers and a head of soft, silver hair like an angel's crown. He immediately fell in love with her and said, "Why, you're beautiful; What do you do?"

He soon found out! She stole the show by whistling "Bill Bailey," "Side by Side," and saying she belongs to the N.D.Y. club — Not Dead Yet! That's how she lived to be 92.

When he said he had heard she was a Methodist, fast as a whip she answered, "Yes, I am; What are you?"

I wonder if he realizes yet she caught him so by surprise — that all across TV land his answer was, "I don't know." His program goes into 52 countries.

She did indeed bring smiles and laughter to millions and studies are proving that whistling a tune, smiles and laughter, are a merry medicine for any age.

Coming up this fall will be the dates of Carson City's 8th International Whistle-Off. On Sept. 21 will be the Northwest Regional Whistling Contest in Yakima, Wash. You all come. Tweet Tweet — that's all folks.

P.S. I might live up on remote mountain property but that "big dish" surely brings the entire world to my living room. I felt as though I was right there in Charlotte, N.C., with my entertainer friend.
