Two local businesses recognized for support

Two local businesses recently received recognition for providing outstanding support to the Sandy High School metals program.

According to Lynn Sondanaa, metals instructor, outside help from several businesses has been essential to the success of the program at Sandy High.

U.S. Metal Works Inc. and Baert's Metal Products Inc. were two of the businesses honored. Sondanaa said both businesses donate scrap metal, welding rod or gases. The reasons for donations of different supplies vary, but Sondanaa said he feels "fortunate" to be on the receiving end.

Baert's and U.S. Metals have both sent people over to help provide special expertise, Sondanaa said. In addition, both have work-study programs that involved SUHS students.

U.S. Metals once sent a semi-truck to the school to drop off some donated materials, Sondanaa said.

Others who received recognition included Jay Miller of Standard Steel, Portland, Curt Mayahe, co-owner of Gresham Welding, and Terry Lenchitsky, SUHS board member and service manager for Diamond Fuel of Portland.

Public welcome to 'drop in' at airpark

Chris and Art Skipper invite the public to "drop in" at the Sandy Area Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours, which is being held at the Country Squire Airpark.

Business After Hours provides an opportunity for area residents to get to know local Chamber members in an informal setting. It will be held Tuesday, June 25 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Country Squire Airpark is located four miles south of Sandy on Bornstedt Road.

Helicopter rides are being offered for $11. Call 668-7751 for reservations.

Scholarship winners named at Sandy High

Editor's note: In last week's Sandy Post we planned to run a complete list of local scholarship recipients. Because of an unforeseen shortage of space, the story had to be cut. We regret any inconvenience.

Ken Brown, senior class counselor, said the Sandy High School class of 1985 was probably as successful as any in earning scholarship monies. The scholarship recipients include: Joneile Stroup — recipient of the Cliff O'Harrow Cup — received a $1,000 scholarship from Linfield College.

Lisa Baker received a $1,000 Trend College scholarship.

Valerie Master, salutatorian, was the first SUHS student to win a national scholarship from the National Honor Society. The scholarship is worth $1,000.

Master also qualified for an $8,000 scholarship from the Whittier College Presidential Scholarship fund, a $2,000 scholarship from the University of Puget Sound Trustee Scholarship fund, and a $1,500 Washington State Interstate Business Grant. Master also received a $100 Sandy Junior Miss scholastic scholarship.

Kendra Rowland received a $4,500 scholarship from the University of Portland.

Bob Collins is an alternate for an Air Force ROTC scholarship, and John Rodriguez is also an ROTC alternate. John Marosi received a three-year Navy ROTC scholarship.

Todd Partinga is receiving tuition to Clackamas Community College.

Judi Duff will attend Taft Junior College on an athletic scholarship, and Marcy Huff will attend the College of Idaho on an athletic scholarship.

Heidi Helgeson will receive a $3,900 scholarship from Trinity College.

Jeff Abshere, outstanding vocational student at Sandy High School, shows a metal sculpture he made for Superintendent Roberta Hutton. He cut the leaves out of copper and brass sheets, and welded them onto brass rods. Abshere plans on attending Mt. Hood Community College.

Children's Weekend planned at Timberline

Timberline's Children's Weekend will be Saturday, June 22 and Sunday, June 23 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. in and around the Wy'East Day Lodge.

The animals help make this a unique weekend. For only $1 one can ride Tiki the elephant from Wildlife Safari, or see and touch a snake, a silky chicken or a 'possum from the Washington Park Zoo. Insects will also be on hand.

David Immel, Portland mime, heads the list of performers who will be on stage and among the people in the crowd.

Susan Strauss will be telling authentic Indian stories — her ear-piercing "eagle cry" is not to be missed.

Julie McCarl will charm the children with her guitar and song. Rainshine the Clown, Smokey the Bear and Woodsey Own will also be on hand. Face painting and kids' games will be available, too.

Puppets, kites, paper models and other toys will be available from the many retail booths located throughout the building. Hungry and thirsty kids, as well as parents, will be able to choose among an array of food and beverages. Admission is free.

Exchange student seeks Sandy home

Mats Mordgren is planning to arrive in mid-August to spend a high school year in America. He is waiting in Sweden to hear that he has a host family in Sandy.

Otherwise, Mordgren will not realize his dream of coming to America, and some family will lose a chance to build a lasting friendship.

Mordgren will be coming to the United States as a foreign exchange student through the Educational Foundation for Foreign Study, a non-profit organization.

Mordgren likes composing music and practicing karate. He describes himself as friendly and eager to help. He is looking for a family in which he can be an active, sharing participant.

For more information about Mordgren or the foreign exchange student program, contact Bonnie Flatt at 622-3713. Or, write EFFS, 1528

City-Players hold auditions for summer production

The Sandy Recreation Department and the Sandy Community Players will team up again this year to produce a play.

A play has not yet been picked, but auditions are being held Saturday, June 22 at 1 p.m. at Heritage Square Theater. About 30 young people, from the fifth through the ninth grades, will be needed.

For more information, call 622-4233.

Players to present 'Drunkard'

The Sandy Community Players will soon present "The Drunkard," or, "The Fallen Saved," a temperance piece adapted for the stage in 1844 by William H. Smith.

The theatrical magic is created by a dashing hero felled by 'demon rum,' an unscrupulously villainous lawyer, a sweet, long-suffering heroine, a deranged village girl who holds the secret of the landlord's fortune, and a rowdy, colorful hodge-podge of true village 'characters.'

The comic melodrama will be held at the Heritage Square Theater — above the Sandy Coast to Coast — on July 5, 6, 12, 13, 19 and 20. Showtime is 8 p.m. Tickets are available at Sandy Country Florists. Call 668-5633 to make reservations.
