Getting even

Kelly Morrow, the villainous lawyer, finds himself in a bad way against Stu Cabe, right, the dumb but effective hero in "The Drunkard," a comic melodrama. The Sandy Community Players production opens July 5 at Heritage Square Theater. Call 668-5633 for reservations.

Senior Center news

Seniors prepare for Mt. Festival

Members of the Sandy Senior Center are busy with preparations for the Senior Center booth at the Sandy Mountain Festival, Saturday, July 13 and Sunday, July 14, where we will again sell homemade pies and cookies.

Donations of fruits and berries, either fresh or frozen, are needed for the pies and would be greatly appreciated. For more information call the center at 668-5569.

Anyone interested in helping with the baking of cookies and pies to sell at the Mountain Festival should sign up at the center or call for more information.

A Mountain Festival Sewing Bee is scheduled for Tuesday, July 2 and Friday, July 5 from 1 to 5 p.m. If you have talent in the area of sewing, your help is needed to make costumes for people helping in the Senior Center booth.

Each month the Sandy Senior Center provides a number of services that are available to the members. They include:

Senior Law Project: Thursday, July 11 from 10 a.m. till noon. An attorney, volunteering his time, will be available to persons wishing to secure a free 30-minute appointment for legal assistance. Interested persons should contact the center for more information or an appointment.

Blood Pressure Clinic: Wednesday, July 3 and Wednesday, July 17 at 12:30 p.m. No appointment is needed.

Medical Insurance Assistance: On an appointment basis. Trained volunteers will be available at the center to help people in filing Medicare and other insurance reimbursement.

Foot Care Clinic: Tuesday, July 16 from 9 a.m. till noon. Loraine Domine, adult nurse practitioner, will provide the services to help people having difficulty with proper podiatric care. For more information or an appointment call the center.

Writers club being formed

Two area women hope to organize a fiction-writers group for people working on short or long fiction projects.

Those interested should call Jude Jensen at 668-7668 or Susan Maas at 663-7834 by July 5. Times, dates and locations of the meetings will be determined by the group after it is formed.

DeVore receives degree in nursing

A Sandy area student was among the 391 Oregon Health Sciences University students to receive their degrees at commencement ceremonies earlier this month at Civic Auditorium in Portland.

Nancy DeVore of Estacada, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Hite of Sandy, was among the 116 students who received bachelor of science degrees in nursing.

Murillo named to council

The Student University Relations Council at the University of Oregon has elected its new officers and chosen its new members for 1985-86.

Locals graduate from UO

Some 3,700 degree candidates and recent graduates were eligible to participate in spring term commencement ceremonies earlier this month at the University of Oregon in Eugene.

Among the degree candidates from Boring were Sheldon D. Arensen, master of science in journalism; Jeradine D. Ketcham, bachelor of science in human services; Sonya H. Staab, bachelor of arts in journalism; and Cynthia L. Weibel, bachelor of science in sociology.

Among the degree candidates from Brightwood was Daniel C. Brown, bachelor of science in geography.

The purpose of SURC is to promote the university's development as a higher education institution, stimulate the interest and participation of students and alumni and establish programs that will benefit UO students, according to Mary Hudzikiewicz, community services director and advisor to the council.

SURC, established during the 1978-79 school year, coordinates and assists with such projects as Homecoming, Commencement and Parents' Weekend, which provides students with public relations experience and allows them to originate ideas for campus activities.

Council membership is open to full-time students and is based on interviews and involvement in campus activities. Members serve for one year but may reapply and be reappointed each year until they graduate.

Among the new members is JoEllyn Murillo, a freshman political science major and the daughter of Judith A. Murillo of Boring.
