

Beissmann tabbed for 4-H honor

Petra Beissmann of Sandy was among nine Clackamas County 4-H members who have received statewide recognition. The nine have been nominated for trips to the 1985 National 4-H Congress in Chicago next fall. The honors were announced at a state 4-H awards program recently at the Oregon 4-H Center near Salem.

The awards become official at the conclusion of this year's 4-H activities, said Duane Johnson, OSU Extension Service state 4-H leader.

Beissmann, 18, is the nominee for a trip to 4-H Congress for her efforts in health and safety. The daughter of Peter and Angelika Beissmann of Sandy, she has been in 4-H nine years. She is a 1985 graduate of Sandy High School.

Health and safety have been a big part of Beissmann's 4-H projects. She has learned about basic first aid, how nutrition affects health, and has studied mental health and aging. The teen leader of an outdoor challenge club, she is interested in a career in sports medicine.

She was a member of the state champion horse judging team last year that participated in the national contest in Denver.

Doctor home after seminar in Cleveland

Dr. Schuyler Liningier of Liningier Chiropractic Clinic in Sandy just returned from the Tenth Intermediate Training Seminar in Clinical Ecology, which was presented in Cleveland, Ohio, by the American Academy of Environmental Medicine.

Clinical ecology is the branch of medicine that treats food, inhalant and chemical sensitivities and allergies. Liningier, who teaches practical nutrition at Western States Chiropractic College, and his wife, Dr. Jane Liningier, have been using clinical ecology techniques in their clinic for the past 18 months. The seminar focused on testing procedures, some of which have been in clinical use for more than 20 years.

"Most of our allergy patients seem pleased with the results," said Liningier. "Many of our patients come to use from all over Oregon and Southern Washington since clinical ecology is not widely practiced in Oregon."

Liningier was recently accepted, and will appear in, the forthcoming edition of "Who's Who in the West."

Bible school conducted by local church

The Sandy Church of Christ will be conducting a vacation Bible school Sunday, Aug. 4 through Thursday, Aug. 8 from 7 to 9 p.m. in their facility at 39640 Pioneer Blvd.

The theme for the school is "Discovering God's Love," with courses designed to provide every student with knowledge, fun and excitement built around a Treasure Island motif. There will be Bible stories, singing, puppet plays, clowns, handwork and playtime held on a daily basis. Refreshments will be served.

The vacation Bible school is being held at night to allow working adults to attend the special class entitled, "Discovering God's Love In Your Life."

The course is designed to help adults understand from the Bible the nature of God's love and find ways to respond to His love in practical living in view of eternal life in Christ.

Another class of special interest to teenagers is entitled "High Voltage." It is meant to provide "power packed" ideas to the teenager from the Bible that can help in daily living.

Classes are provided for all ages, from 2 years old on up. The public is invited to attend. For more information call 668-6116.

Masters planning for fair booths

Master Gardeners and Master Food Preservers will have a booth at the Clackamas County Fair on Aug. 13 through 18, according to Bob Nelson of Sandy.

The booths will be side by side, and people are welcome to stop by if they have questions on canning or gardening.

The Clackamas County Fair will be held at the fairgrounds in Canby.
