Marathon skiers

Exhausted team members lift their skis in jubilant salute at the close of the Jimmie Heuga Timberline Express Jan. 17, an all-day ski event that benefited the Jimmie Heuga Center — which treats people with muscular dystrophy — and Oregon's own Mountain Signal Memorial Fund. In eight hours, eight coed teams of three made 35 runs apiece for a combined total of 760,000 vertical feet, raising $10,000 for the two organizations.

Application deadlines set for hunting antelope, bear

Hunting season dates have been adopted for 1987 for antelope, bighorn sheep, cougar, bear, and High Cascade deer.

The Oregon Fish and Wildlife Commission adopted the dates last week.

Application deadline for all of these hunts, except for bear, is April 1. Tags or refunds will be mailed to applicants by May 18.

Hunters applying for controlled bear seasons must send in their applications by March 15. Tags or refunds will be mailed by April 1.

Regulation sheets and instructions for filling out applications will be available in license outlets by mid-February.

Antelope rifle season will be from Aug. 15 to 21, with 1,410 buck tags available. The High Cascade deer season will run from Sept. 5 to 13, with 3,500 tags available.

The commission also approved 600 tags spread among six, separate, early deer hunts in eastern Oregon. All of these hunts are intended to reduce deer damage problems on agricultural lands.

Cougar season begins Nov. 15 in western Oregon with 230 tags available. Most east side seasons begin Dec. 1 with 227 tags allotted.

The commission approved staff proposals for three separate bear seasons. These include a bear pursuit season July 11 to Aug. 16, controlled entry rifle seasons beginning as early as April 11, and a general bear season Aug. 22 through Nov. 30.
