

We have compiled a list of the best football walk-ons from recent history going back about 35 years to the mid-60s. Anytime one makes up such a list some worthy players may be overlooked. I apologize for that but thought it would be an appropriate time to honor these special people, who were not offered Division I scholarships. They all have in common that they were good high school players who could have contributed greatly to a lesser program, but had the drive and determination to play at the highest level. Our hats are off to you!

Top Offensive Walk-Ons

Chuck Bradley

An intramural find, at 6-5, 230, Chuck became Dan Fouts' center in 1972 and a second round NFL draft pick (Miami). He also played with San Diego and Chicago.

Joe Reitzug

Known for his acrobatic catches & great routes Joe was one of Bill Musgrave's main targets & led Ducks in receiving in their 1990 Freedom Bowl year with 40 catches for 639 yards.

Greg Moser

Moser came out of Hood River and led the Ducks in receiving in 1980 (19.1 yards per catch) and 1981 and played for three teams in the USFL.

Jamey Matthews

The 6-3, 255 lb. guard from Portland became a 3 year starter from 1978-80. Coach Zoumboukos rates Jamey as one of the top linemen he has ever coached.

Jed Weaver

The Redmond Panther followed Blake Spence in long line of great Duck tight ends. He has become a valuable NFL player, first with Philadelphia and now with 49ers.

Jason Willis

Los Angeles native was great possession receiver who caught 43 passes in 2001 season. Willis made the Seattle Seahawks as a free agent this year.

Josh Line

Springfield native caught two TD passes in 2001 & his blocking at fullback paved the way for 1,000-yard rushers Maurice Morris and Onterio Smith.

Jack Rust

The "pride of Glide" the 6-3, 240 Rust became an impact player for the "Fighting Ducks" from 1966 to 1968.

Dan Wilken

Known as a tremendous hitter, the 6-1, 200 pound free safety from South Eugene was a positive force in the Duck defense from 1983-85.

Chris Tetterton

Sheldon HS defensive tackle earned starting job in senior year. Chris made 20 tackles in 2001 & had best game against UCLA in Rose Bowl in '01.

Top Defensive Walk-Ons

George Dames

Came to Oregon at 165 pounds from Medford and became a second team All-American nose guard in 1968.

Jeff Sherman

The 5-10, 179 defensive quarterback for "Gang Green" helped the Ducks get into the Rose Bowl with his outstanding play at free safety.

Paul Jensen

The 6-2, 227 pound outside linebacker from Lebanon became an integral part of the "Gang Green" defense and played in the 1995 Rose Bowl.

Wesly Mallard

"Our favorite Duck" migrated from Georgia and was 2nd team All Pac-10 at LB in '01. Drafted in 6th round by NY Giants, where he continues his strong play.
