prevention programs for drug treatment and domestic violence that strike at the root causes of crime. It's crazy for Springfield to build a big new jail while taxpayers have already paid to build jail beds at the county juvenile and adult jails that aren't being used because of a lack of operations funding. Springfield doesn't have a clue how it will pay to operate the jail it now wants taxpayers to build.

tle. Such a diversion can be justified for a very noble public purpose. Getting rid of the ugly junk in Glenwood along the riverfront to build a public park and a bike trail would be a great project that would revitalize the area. But that's not what the money will be dedicated to. Springfield's vague UR plan for the area runs the risk of having scarce taxpayer money diverted to line the pockets of a few private developers.

Measure 20-100. Willamalane Community Center. YES

The measure would fund a $4.5 million new recreation center in Willamalane Park. The new center will provide a gym, preschool space, teen center, fitness room and other amenities. Giving kids a place to play is a much kinder and cost effective way of preventing crime than expensive jail beds. ew

Measure 20-92. Glenwood tax diversion. NO

This Springfield measure would set up an urban renewal (UR) district in Glenwood. UR districts divert property tax revenue from city, county and state services and from funding for schools and increase taxes only a lit-
