PEACE and WAR

UO professors of history, literature, religion, and philosophy will lead discussions on topics related to "Peace and War" on Saturday mornings over coffee in the elegant Autzen Stadium Club Room. These affordable college-level classes for the community are available at $75 each. A "season ticket" for all six seminars saves $75. Books are available through the UO Bookstore. Register at 346-3475 or visit uoinsight.uoregon.edu.

LIFE OF THE MIND
 February 26, 10:00 a.m.–2:00 p.m.

A one-day seminar designed to resuscitate the reading and thinking habits of adults. Based on David Denby's book, Great Books, about going back to college as an adult. A great introduction to the other seminars. $35

THE RAGE OF ACHILLES
 March 5, 12, 19, 26, 9:30 a.m.–noon

The first and still the greatest book about war is Homer's Iliad, the epic of warrior culture. You will love it as an adult, even if you didn't as a student. As hair-raising and relevant as the daily news, this is the foundation of the West's thinking about war. $75

BAND OF BROTHERS
 June 4, 11, 18, 25, 9:30 a.m.–noon

Shakespeare's Henry V presents the Hundred Years War. Olivier's stirring 1945 film version rallied war-time England, but Branagh's 1989 film is anti-war. Shakespeare: pro- and anti-war at the same time? Read the play and watch the films. $75

CULTURE OF TOLERANCE
 April 2, 9, 16, 23, 9:30 a.m.–noon

Ornament of the World: How Muslims, Jews and Christians Created a Culture of Tolerance in Medieval Spain was a surprise bestseller in 2002. What is more timely to learn about than Islam, and tolerance? A highly enjoyable book about the history and literature of Jews and Muslims in medieval Spain. $75

WAR AND PEACE
 July 9, 16, 23, 30, 9:30 a.m.–noon

It is time—at last—to read Tolstoy's great novel War and Peace, or read it again. A novel so good you need to talk about it with other readers. Tolstoy has great characters and stories, but is also exploring the nature and meaning of history and war. $75

VIKINGS
 April 30, May 7, 14, 21, 9:30 a.m.–noon

Njal's Saga is the epic story of Iceland's greatest lawyer, a man of peace in a culture of violence—an authentic and absorbing portrait of Viking life written in the 13th century. How do you break the vicious cycle of revenge, when it is the law? $75

MAHATMA GANDHI
 August 6, 13, 20, 27, 9:30 a.m.–noon

Martin Luther King Jr. learned about non-violence from Gandhi. Read Gandhi's autobiography and the Bhagavad-Gita. What is nonviolence? What did King learn from Gandhi? How to confront a violent world with a vision of peace. $75
