GIFT GUIDE 2005

Every Fall our staff and interns hit the streets searching for the hottest, funkiest holiday gifts. This year the Eugene Weekly staff decided to focus on local businesses and handmade, hand-crafted goods. We visited many of Eugene's unique and interesting shops, collecting hundreds of presents for all ages and budgets. We've even included stuff under $5 that you can use as stocking stuffers.

The 2005 Gift Guide also has something new: We've profiled various artists and artisans and given you the history behind a few local shops and businesses. Learn all about teen entrepreneur Bim Ditson in the section on jewelry. Did you know that Café Mam is actually named after the Mayan folk who farm the coffee beans? Check out that story in the section on Tasty Treats. Ever wonder where the inspiration for the Museum of Unfine Art came from? It's all here in the Eugene Weekly's 2005 Gift Guide.

Special thanks to our devoted and hard-working interns Dave Constantin, Danny Cross, Tim O'Rourke and freelancer Vanessa Salvia who collected most of this stuff. Also thanks to sales, production and circulation. — Melissa Bearns, editor.
