Opening Nights

JACQUES BREL IS ALIVE & WELL & LIVING IN PARIS

Opens at the Very Little Theatre Friday, Oct. 19.

"Join us now, we're on a marathon; we're always dancing when the music plays!" From the opening lines of this revue – a piece of theater celebrating the music of French composer Brel and a whirlwind of songs that swirl from the heights of romance to the depths of depression (often in the same song) – the audience is swept up in what the New York Times reviewer of the 2006 revival called "Brel's unmistakably Gallic sensibility, a potent mixture of romanticism and cynicism, world-weariness and jaunty whimsy." Awesome stuff, very high energy for the VLT's season opener! Show dates are Oct. 19-21 & 25-28 and Nov. 1-4 & 8-10. For tix, call 344-7751.

LA DISPUTE

Opens at the UO's Arena Theatre Wednesday, Oct. 24.

So OK. In a monogamous heterosexual relationship, who's more likely to cheat – the man or the woman? The mid-18th century French possibly had a slightly different response than the one most Americans, steeped in "social biology," would probably give, and famed comedic playwright Marivaux leaves the answer up in the air. Hmm, maybe there's no point in that silly old monogamy anyway. We suggest you not see this play with someone too tempting ... Show dates are Oct. 24-27 and Nov. 1-3. Tix available by calling 346-1791.

TOM'S FIXED

We have every sort of bicycle fanatic at Paul's. Take Tom Barrett, for example, he rides all of the most rigorous trails on his fixed gear 69er. Translation: he rides a fixed gear, 1-speed bike with a 26" rear wheel and a 29" front.

This season he has ridden 20 different trails, on a total of 40 rides.

So if you want to know the inside info on all of the nearby trails, come visit Alder St. and talk to Tom.
