ADELE 19

ADELE:19 With her mix up of R&B and Soul served up with a healthy dash of feisty London attitude, she spins beautiful dark stories of loves won and lost and sometimes just day-dreamed about. '19' proves that the latest invasion of female British singers are definitely going back to the 60's for their inspiration.

DEICIDE:SCARS OF THE CRUCIFIX Earache records is definitely the most appropriately named label for Deicide, because Deicide's ninth release, 'Scars of the Crucifix,' may not be as fast as a previous album (i.e. 'Legion'), but it's just as brutal. 'Scars' has everything you could ask for from a Deicide album, and it has everything for a good death metal album.

LITTLE BIG TOWN:PLACE TO LAND he third studio album by Country music group Little Big Town who found a home at Capitol Records Nashville. 'We want the world to hear this music,' says Schlapman, 'It's how we tell the story of our lives.' In addition to the project's 12 original tracks, the re-release features four brand new studio tracks.

METRO STATION:SELF-TITLED - Metro Station is a band that, despite their youth, have made their way from greasy mall jobs to recording with Motion City Soundtrack in the same year. They are truly a product of their times and their generation, and they are ready to take advantage of it.

MGMT:ORACULAR SPECTACULAR MGMT and kindred spirits in Muse and Mew by dressing their melodies in the fanciful trappings of 1970s British prog, but unlike their contemporaries the duo also weaves in lessons from disco, new-wave synth-pop, and early 90s Britpop. The understanding that youthful innocence is a potent force.

MARTIN SEXTON:SOLO It's easy to forget there's only one man on stage listening to rarities like "Caught In The Rain" and covers like "Purple Rain", Ray Charles' "Hard Times", and a crowd sing-along on "With A Little Help From My Friends". Spine-tingling performances from the "Master of Dynamics", brilliantly recorded in theatres coast to coast.

UNEARTH:MARCH The March is Metalcore band Unearth's fourth studio album. The 2008 album has a theme of both the evil and hopeful sides of humanity. The March was recorded at both MA's System Recording Studios and Zing Studios with producer Adam Dutkiewicz. The album features UNEARTH's most dynamic material to date, combining strong tension and release, abundant guitar solos and a bulldozing power-groove.

LUCINDA WILLIAMS:LITTLE HONEY - Lucinda Williams has always been adept at painting landscapes of the soul, illuminating the spirit's shadowy nooks and shimmering crannies -- but she's never captured the sun breaking through the clouds as purely as on her new Lost Highway release, Little Honey The album features a duet with Elvis Costello 'Jailhouse Tears' Other guest vocalists include Matthew Sweet, Susanna Hoffs, Jim Lauderdale, Tim Easton and Charlie Louvin.
