All around the world people decorate their modes of transportation, whether it's an elaborate customized bus in Rawalpindi or a Cadillac with cow horns in Texas. Eugene is a center for bicycle culture and art, and add our penchant for imaginative recycling and it's natural that we go a little nutty with our favorite two- and three-wheeled creations.

As our annual bike issue approached we sent out the word that we were looking for unusual bicycles and their owners and builders to photograph. Here are some of the pedal-powered machines that showed up, and we know there are many more out there.
