COME IN AND SAY GOODBYE TO WILLIAM.

SLEEPER AGENT-CELABRACION: Describing their music as akin to The Ronettes on speed, Sleeper Agent make hook-laden skuzzy garage-pop rooted in both soul and Southern rock - all fueled by drummer Justin "Keyser" Wilson's manic rhythms and the dueling harmonizing vocals of vocalist Alex "Kidd" Kandel and guitarist Tony "Tutone" Smith, who is also the band's songwriting force of nature. Not only do they cite such musical artists as Jay Reatard, The Strokes, Pixies, T-Rex, The Beatles, and Led Zeppelin as influences, they are also influenced by horror and sci-fi flicks as well as stand-up comedians. "We just want people to listen to the music and have fun," says Smith. "It's pretty obvious that's what we want when you listen to the album."

BLINK 182-NEIGHBORHOODS: The self-produced 'Neighborhoods' reflects each band member's different point of view. Bassist/Singer Mark Hoppus states "We each bring a very different aesthetic, talent and sound to the band. And in the differences between our ideas, the struggle and edge of all the different directions, is where the good things happen when we write together."

CAROLINA LIAR-WILD BLESSED FREEDOM: On September 27th, Carolina Liar returns with new album Wild Blessed Freedom. The highly anticipated disc was recorded with producers Max Martin (Katy Perry, Avril Lavigne, Pink), Shellback (Usher, Ke$ha) and Tobias Karlsson at Maratone Studios in Stockholm and Los Angeles.

CHICKENFOOT-CHICKENFOOT III: the illustrious, virtuosic supergroup formed by singing legend Sammy Hagar, guitar god Joe Satriani, and the renowned rhythm section of bassist Michael Anthony and drummer Chad Smith approached the initial stages of recording their new album, Chickenfoot III, with supreme confidence and a firm sense of intention."

DEIVOS-DEMIURGE OF THE VOID: Poland mighty death metal outfit Deivos return with their second effort on Unique Leader Records entitled Demiurge of the Void. After the success of their debut release Gospel of Maggots, the band has added many new elements complimenting their already straight in your face vicious form of extreme meta for a massive finished product that'll crush all listeners.

VAN HUNT-WHAT WERE YOU HOPING FOR?: The album sees the Grammy-winner turning up the volume on his genre. From the break-neck "Watching You Go Crazy Is Driving Me Insane" and "A Time Machine Is My New Girlfriend" to the metallic k.o. of the album's first single, "Eyes Like Pearls," Hunt unleashes a sound that reverberates with caustic wit, passion, and the thrilling excitement of an artist operating at his peak.

INDIGO GIRLS-BEAUTY QUEEN SISTER: The new album is a stunning 13-song collection featuring the signature storytelling that fans have grown to love, touching on modern-world worries and romanticizing the simplicity of days gone by. Recorded in Nashville, the duo reunited with producer Peter Collins, with whom the Indigo Girls worked on 1992's Rites of Passage and 1994's Swamp Ophelia.

MISFITS-DEVIL'S RAIN: Rooted in the horror and sci-fi themes their audience craves, The Devil's Rain showcases 16 fiendish, soon-to-be Misfits classics. Produced by Ed Stasium, the album showcases a jaw-dropping, two-panel front/back cover painting featuring the rebirth of the band's iconic 'Fiend' mascot in an epic setting rendered by Arthur Suydam.

HAWAII FIVE-0 - O.S.T.: Original Songs From The Television Series features brand new and previously unreleased tracks from some of music's most popular artists including Bob Dylan, Train, Goo Goo Dolls, The Swell Season, Switchfoot, Jimmy Cliff, Ziggy Marley and ukulele virtuoso Jake Shimabukuro that are available exclusively on this soundtrack.

STEVEN WILSON-GRACE FOR DROWNING: Steven Wilson is a twice Grammy-nominated producer, writer and performer, best known as founder and front man of British rock band Porcupine Tree. He has also produced and /or mixed albums for artists as diverse as Swedish metal band Opeth, Norwegian chanteuse Anja Garbarek, and progressive rock institution King Crimson.
