CORRECTIONS/CLARIFICATIONS

In our Wine column Feb. 2, we printed the wrong venue for the SMART silent auction benefit March 20. The correct location will be the Boulevard Grill at 2123 Franklin Blvd. in Eugene. To donate items or services for the auction, contact Larry Malmgren at 636-3347 or email larrymalmgren@comcast.net and to RSVP, call Liz Degner at 726-3302.

MARK STAFFORD

Lifelong Eugenean Mark Stafford attended River Road, Kelly and North Eugene schools while his family was steadily disintegrating into alcoholism. "My friends were going to college," says Stafford, who instead joined the Army to get the GI Bill, then earned a UO business degree in 1980. A year later, he got a start in video as an assistant on a documentary series for athletes by UO track coach Bill Dellinger. Afterwards, he sold his motorcycle to buy a VHS camera and founded Stafford Video Productions. Though SVP mostly works with local businesses and arts groups specializing in training videos, it has also provided Stafford with adventures across the U.S. and around the world, including three projects for National Geographic in the past five years. In 2000, he smuggled a prohibited video camera into the King's Chamber of the Great Pyramid. "Right now, we're finishing a huge project on Parkinson's," he says. "I'm getting paid, but contributing a lot of time." Look for the five-part documentary, Many Faces of Parkinson's, directed by Vicki Anderson of Leaburg, on CTV Channel 29 at 4 pm Sundays, beginning Feb. 26. SVP contributed to the documentary feature, If a Tree Falls: A Story of the Earth Liberation Front, which is up for an Academy Award.
