

CELLAR BEER

Brewmaster's barrel-conditioning puts the Oak in Oakshire

In the old days, human beings got drunk on unsanitary, bacteria-ridden, fermented pulp provided by agricultural negligence and elated discovery. Thousands of years have passed, science has dissected nature and people still get drunk on fermented pulp. At Oakshire Brewery, colonies of latent bacteria thrive in the wood-grains of aging barrels stacked in a warehouse across from the main facility.
