Just when you think the impossible choice between beer and coffee is going to completely ruin your day, Oakshire's Overcast Espresso Stout happens. The coffee-flavored oatmeal stout gets its dose of java from Wandering Goat's cold-brewed coffee. Oakshire's Amanda Pence says Overcast is special because it's a brew for any time of day, to pair with sweet or savory food, and even during those rare Eugene days when it's not actually overcast.

Cowfish has been voted both best singles scene and best same-sex pickup spot, an impressive feat for a town seemingly bustling with various bars and clubs where people congregate. What is it about Cowfish that makes it so attractive to the looking-for-love (or sex) crowd? Co-owner Shawn Mediaclast says, "I'm just happy that the people who work there made it so that everybody feels comfortable being who they are at Cowfish; there's a really light-hearted, friendly vibe that makes everyone feel welcome." Cowfish also features an array of DJs offering entertainment many nights of the week, so if you're looking to get down, both literally and figuratively, Cowfish is the place to be.
