

SUPPORTING ORGANIC AGRICULTURE IS ALL WE KNOW

Over the past 100 years, industrial agriculture has altered our country's landscape and culture. We witnessed water and air quality, the food we eat, and our health decline as the use of synthetic pesticides, herbicides and fertilizers became standard practice.

Here at Mountain Rose Herbs, we've championed organic agriculture since 1987 by supplying herbs that grow as the earth intended - with living soil, fresh water, mixed crops, and the integration of beneficial species. Going organic holds the promise of fertile lands, viable seeds, thriving wildlife populations, uncontaminated crops and clean drinking water for generations to come.

This is why we support Beyond Toxics' mission to expose the root causes of toxic pollution in Oregon communities and empower them to find lasting solutions. You can help protect human and environmental health too by visiting www.beyondtoxics.org.
