HELLO! MY NAME IS

Dance Tango!!

Would you like to feel more alive? Have better posture? Protect and enhance your aging brain and body? Keep your memory active in a relaxed alert body?

We are Daniel Hardt ND (Naturopathic Doctor) and Gayle Hand ANP (Adult Nurse Practitioner). Our health and medical practice is located at 390 West 12th in central Eugene. In recent years our activity of choice has become Tango! Originating in Buenos Aries, Argentina more than 100 years ago from a mixture of European, African and new world rhythms, Argentine Tango is special because of its unique music and improvisational nature.

Human beings have used dance for healing, recreation, and communication for millennia. The idea of regimented exercise was unheard of in the pre-civilization natural world, but dance has been a part of every cultural history. We recommend and encourage everyone we know to learn to dance and to dance on a regular basis so they can experience laughter, music, social touch and health benefits Rhythm is basic to life. We feel and experience our lives around rhythms -sunrise/sunset, tides, seasons, breathing, walking. Almost all music is developed on a fixed rhythmic base.

Traditional tango is an exception. While it has a basic four-beat count, the beat is overlaid with melodies that have their own rhythmic accents and pulses NOT tied to a fixed rhythmic pattern. This creates a subtle but profound stimulation for the brain and neuromuscular system not found in other types of music and dance. Moving to tango music in connection with a partner improves sensory processing and sensory motor integration resulting in better posture, balance, mobility and even memory!

Some may be wonder if learning tango will be too difficult, or perhaps they have already tried and found it frustrating, or worse, painful. We believe that teaching people to be mindful from the beginning about good body alignment and use of joints as shock absorbers can prevent and heal injury. Also, using a teaching system that emphasizes hearing and moving with the rhythmic pulses rather than memorized steps and figures will shorten the learning curve.

Argentine Tango will vitalize your nights, enhance your mental and physical abilities and return many benefits for the time you spend in this special dance!!
