

One reviewer, two plays: Hair and Landscape of the Body

The large ensemble cast is all-in on this one, bringing mortal weight to wrenching set pieces like the Vietnam War fugue “Three-Five-Zero-Zero,” one of the highlights of the show. VanBeever and crew strike an affecting balance among the shifting social

REBECCA LEE AND ANNE LUPI IN LANDSCAPE OF THE BODY

Taken together, this pair of production — Hair, a hippie story with a sad ending, and Landscape of the Body, a sad story that finishes on a promising note — provides an intriguing glimpse into the irregular heartbeat and clogged arteries of the American Dream as it beat on late last century, full of love, hate and hope, however faltering. And the beat goes on. ■

Hair runs through Feb. 15 at Actors Cabaret of Eugene. Landscape of the Body runs through Feb. 2 at University Theatre.
