

As the main water source for the entire city of Eugene and prime habitat for an abundance of wildlife, the McKenzie River is a precious resource. The McKenzie River Trust works to protect that resource, and on April 4, you can help by going to McKenzie Memories, a fundraiser that focuses on the history of the river. Roger Fletcher, author of Drift Boats & River Dories, will be present to sign copies of his book and tell stories about the McKenzie wooden drift boat, and for each book copy he sells at the fundraiser, he'll donate $15 to the McKenzie River Trust. Capped off with a live auction for a guided float down the river and a wooden replica of a 1947 drift boat, this fundraiser has sold out for the past two years, so move now for a night of memories and celebrating the river.

McKenzie Memories is 6-8:30pm Friday, April 4, at Cozmic, 199 W. 8th Ave. $10.
