Dynamic fine-art photographer and graphic artist Tracy Sydor is making waves throughout Eugene, and not just in the art scene. The Outsiders Ball, her upcoming costume-optional art show and party, is doubling as a benefit for Womenspace; rather than charging an entry fee, Sydor is asking that guests offer winter clothing donations to this local foundation providing aid to survivors of intimate partner violence. A survivor of domestic violence herself, Sydor feels strongly about advocating for fellow victims. "The bands aren't making any money, I'm not making any money — pretty much no one is making any money off of this," said Sydor. "I'm just doing this to showcase really talented artists who need some exposure, and attached to the event, I really wanted to do something for Womenspace."

The Outsiders Ball, featuring 11 local artists of varying media, kicks off at 7pm Saturday, Oct. 25, at Sydor's studio, Digital Latte Photography, 1000 S. Bertelson. Music by the Egotones and Red Rangers. BYOB and BYOCADBTCTWI (bring your own costume and don't be too cool to wear it).
