Sean Scolnick never considered a life as anything but a musician — either playing on street corners and struggling or wildly famous, playing gigs all around the world. Adopting the moniker Langhorne Slim, he cut five solo records before hooking up with his backing band, The Law. Together, their songs are propelling them toward the latter. Slim is a storyteller, a soul who has been around the world and back again, and his lyrics are deeply personal. The Law's strings and bass accompaniment will make damn sure that no butt is left in its seat and the dance floor is good and torn up before the show's over. Langhorne Slim & The Law bring their high energy, jumping, soulful sound to Eugene Tuesday evening, mere days before dropping their new album The Spirit Moves. Somebody say Yeah!

Langhorne Slim & The Law perform at 8:30pm Tuesday, Aug. 4, at the Hi-Fi Music Hall, 44 E 7th Ave.; $15. — Sarah Decker
