

Rickie Lee Jones moved to L.A. about 40 years ago to become a professional musician. She lives in New Orleans now. Her newest record, 2015's The Other Side of Desire, is the work of an artist who's got nothing to prove. Jones, who performs Friday at The Shedd, has been everywhere. She's learned from and inspired many of the best songwriters of her generation and the next. The Other Side of Desire is her first album of all new songs in over a decade. "This work is inspired by many years of sitting with all the events of my life until I had something to paint with. I came to New Orleans to write and to live a different way than what I have known on the West Coast," Jones says. "Here is another record then, made of my imagination and whatever else that has no words, using the clay of this place and the shapes of my eyes to form some kind of picture of my life, or my heart, that I alone can understand, and hopefully that others can enjoy."

Rickie Lee Jones performs at 7:30pm Friday, Feb. 26, at The Shedd Institute, 868 High St.; $36-$42.
