

The annual Lane Community College Powwow, hosted by the college's Native American Student Association, will kick off LCC's spring term on April 2. Dancers in regalia enter in two grand entries at 1 pm and 7 pm, and the event features drumming, dancing, singing and more, celebrating the support that families, tribes, friends and faculty give Native American LCC students. The yearly intertribal powwow started around 1991, when, according to Indian Country Today, LCC had only about 50 Native American students. Two years after LCC built its longhouse in 2010, the college had 650 American Indian students. The master of ceremonies for the event is Fred Hill, and the powwow will feature host drums Steiger Butte, Meehock Pride and Dancing Spirit with Head Man Dancer Gerry Rainingbird and Head Woman Dancer Chava Florendo. The LCC powwow is a drug and alcohol free event and is said to be one of the largest events of its kind in the Northwest.

Lane Community College Powwow is Saturday, April 2. Grand entries are at 1pm and 7pm at LCC's main campus, 4000 E. 30th Ave. FREE. — Camilla Mortensen
