

Friendship with Cambodia will screen the documentary Girl Rising to raise funds for girls' education in Cambodia. The film follows the stories of nine girls who face extreme challenges while trying to receive an education. Friendship with Cambodia executive director Bhavia Wagner says, "Just like boys, girls deserve kindness, respect and an education, so they can bring their gifts and talents into the world." Over the last 12 years, the nonprofit has sponsored girls living in poverty in rural Cambodia, helping them complete high school and college.
