A Vote for Jerry is a Vote for Change

"It's time to admit top-down reforms are not working for our kids. We need leaders who will insist education policies fit the needs of our children, not that our children fit the needs of education policies." -Jerry Rosiek

A science teacher, a father,
a professor of education,
an experienced administrator,
and a lifelong advocate for social justice and excellence in our schools.

The Challenges We Face:

- Class sizes are far too large.
- Drop out rates are far too high.
- Standardized testing is excessive.
- Local control of schools is being lost.

We Need a Change of Direction
