Have You and Your Kids Had Enough Testing?

The average student takes 112 mandated standardized tests by 12th grade*

- They take 2-6 weeks of instruction time and are unnecessarily stressful for young students.
- Schools are pressured to teach to the test and to minimize untested subjects.
- Smarter Balanced test reports arrive too late for teachers to even use them.
- Many studies show these tests aren't fair or valid measures of student learning.
- The Springfield School Board urged parents to opt-out.

It's time to say, "Enough!"
Join the Movement to Opt-Out.
Oregon law allows it.
Contact your school for opt-out forms.
