Welcome, Chetco Post, American Legion

Welcome to this community, Chetco Post, No. 138, American Legion, and Auxiliary. Your coming brings joy to the hearts of so many ex-service men, their wives, their sisters, their mothers, and others who, perhaps, are not eligible for membership.

The Legion, founded in 1918 in Paris, has done much good in the National life of America in the years since that time. It will continue to do so until the last of the members have gone they way of those gallant man of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The Legion is not a "secret" organization. Anyone is permitted to attend its meetings, listen to the discussions, and watch the men who served, do business as citizens of the country they served.

Pilot Welcomes Letters To The Editor

In the last two issues of the Pilot, letters have come in from readers, giving their views on certain things about the community. Right here, the Pilot wants it known that these letters, signed, are welcome, and space will be given to any letter which has something constructive to offer to the remainder of the readers.

This is still America, and people have their own rights of opinion, as well as the right to express these opinions. It makes no difference, either, if these letters contain ideas which coincide with those expressed by the Pilot—all will be given space. However, it may appear, right in the next column, a return opinion which may refute those expressed by the letters.

Under the bill of rights, the United States constitution guarantees its citizens the right of free press, free speech, free schools, etc. The Pilot make absolutely no exceptions to any of these rights

There are, however, some things the Pilot wishes it readers would refrain in directing letters to the editor. First among these would be any controversial remark regarding religion; about character of any citizen, although criticism of actions of any person is open for discussion. Please use these columns if you wish.

Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon certainly gave OPA officials a "bad time" of it for the bungling of lumber priorities, at Washington early this week. Morse only expressed what others think.

A REPORT—

To the Brookings-Harbor Members of COOS ELECTRIC CO-OPERATIVE!

We are still far short of all the easements necessary to put the engineer to work staking the lines to your homes or businesses.

You have told of your need for service. You must give it some of the action you have been asking for.

There have been several offers of help to dig holes for the poles. The help we really need to get your lines built is for everyone to get "nosey" and ask his next door neighbor: "HAVE YOU SIGNED YOUR EASEMENT IN ORDER TO TO HELP THE PROGRESS OF YOUR POWER LINE?"
