Robert Campbell, past commander of Blythe, was temporary chairman and Kenneth Layman, of Smith River, was secretary.

Among those signing up as the charter members are: James Hight, Ernest Richards, Melvin Ferrill, Brady McVay, James Yarbrough, Irvin Sarina, Andrew Nilsen, Frank Hemingway, Perry Davis, John Barnum, David Caparoon, Paul Maris, Joseph Quinn, John Bowie, and Tom Tranthum.

There are about 60 world war 2 veterans in the valley who will be eligible to join this new post. Another meeting will be held soon, with the new officers in charge.

SUPT. VISITS SMITH RIVER—

Rev. Correll M. Julian, superintendent of the Redwood-Shasta district of the Methodist church, visited the churches of Del Norte county the past week. He held services at the various churches, and presided at the quarterly conference, with the official board of directors of Smith River and Gushchu Methodist churches.

New Businesses To Open Here Soon

Within the first week of May, three, and possibly four, new businesses hope to open their doors to the community.

Lyle Redfield, formerly of Klamath Falls, plans to open a new grocery store in the large room at the Harris building, next to the stage depot. Redfield, a veteran grocer, is putting in a "self-service" store, and expects to have as large a supply of canned goods as is possible at this time. It is uncertain, according to Redfield, whether he will have a butcher shop immediately, but says he will install one just as soon as he can get the necessary materials.

Also among the new businesses will be Eagle Billiard Recreation, being put in the Templar hotel building, in the room formerly occupied by O'Neal Electric Co. G. E. Bellant, also of Klamath Falls, is the proprietor. He plans to have two pool tables, one cigar counter, and possibly a juke box.

Not to be forgotten, the B. & B. Cafe is due to open on May 1, if all goes well, according to Florence Buchanan and Bertha Beers, two local ladies establishing the restaurant.

There are several other rumored businesses coming in, but for the most part, plans are tentative and indefinite.
