Last Friday's primary election attracted very little interest of voters throughout the state in general, and in the two local precincts in particular. One hundred and twenty votes were cast in the Brookings ballot boxes, and 72 votes marked in Chetco precinct.

In both the Brookings and Chetco precincts the voting was predominantly republican with 82 votes in Brookings and 54 in the Chetco precinct.

Ex-Jap Prisoner Visits Sister Here

Roland K. Bass, of Seattle, former prisoner of the Japs in the infamous Santo Tomas prison camp in the Philippines, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Emil Moore.

Employed by the Pan American Airways at Manila when the Japs over-ran the island, he was one of the unfortunates to be thrown into this camp. He was considered by the Japs to be an especially important prisoner, since he had been on the Islands for 20 years prior to the invasion.

Torture and cruelty of the Japs left an everlasting mark on Bass. From outward appearances he is apparently normal. However, he is suffering from hardening of the arteries, brought on by the malnutrition. Prisoners were fed very little food, and what food the prisoners did get was inadequate.

While at Santo Tomas, Bass would wake up at night, hysterically crying for food, particularly bacon and eggs. Now that he is delivered from this inhuman treatment, he is still trying to make up for the food he did not get. Whenever food is offered, or placed in front of him, he cannot resist eating.

Born at Memphis, Tenn., Bass went to the Philippines to teach school in 1926. He taught at several Manila schools, as well as a few years in outlying districts. Later he went into employ of Pan American Airways.

He said when he returned to the United States about five months ago, he thought he was "flat broke," but upon arrival at San Francisco, he was met by a delegation from Pan American Airways, which informed him he was to be paid for the entire time he was held prisoner.

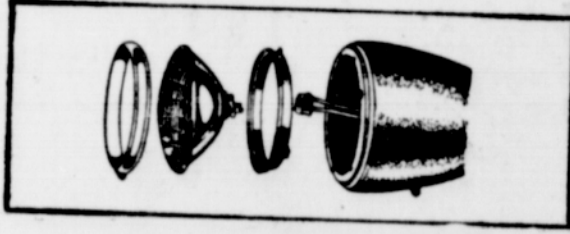

At present he is resting and trying to regain his health. He has been in the veteran hospitals, both at Memphis, Tenn., and Seattle. After his vacation here, Bass plans to return to Seattle where he has an interest in some fishing boats. He does not plan now to return to Manila, even if he does own several rice plantations near there.

Posters Create
 Local Interest

Mary Lou Berger and Joe Moore took first places respectively in the girls and boys poster contest sponsored by the P.-T. A. for the picnic yesterday. The contest was open to the fifth and sixth grade students in Mrs. Garcia's room.

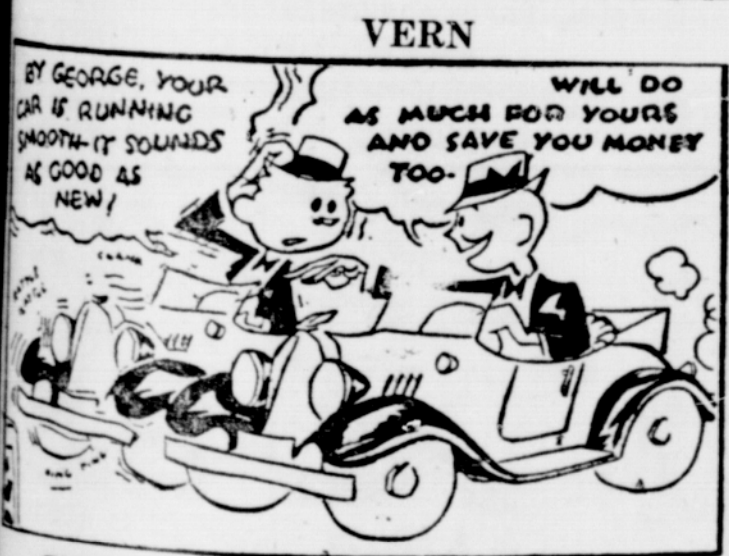

Charles Echols was designated as judge for the contest, and in reaching his decision, he said it was difficult to decide exactly which poster was best—they were all well-designed and the work done on them was very good.

In the girls division, Mary Lou Berger was awarded first place, Beverly Stoller's poster was given second place and third went to Janice Johnson's art work.

Joe Moore won the boys first place, with Jimmy Fitzhugh in second, and Glen Orton's poster winning third.

Herbert Stevens' original poster was given honorable mention for outstanding decoration, and Joe Moore's poster was also awarded honorable mention for the best idea. Alma Duffy was given honorable mention for having the most colorful poster.

The posters were made to distribute about town, advertising the P.-T. A. picnic held yesterday. Many of these youthful works of art were seen on display in windows and on glass doors of
