station. Why! that little short man like Bill Foltz! It is Bill! And there's sign . . . "Bill's Garage, Inc." Still jolly full of fun, I find. He looks busy but I to disturb him. After my eager question Genie Moore (one of our class "brains" boasted of) Bill replied that she owned beautiful home out by Harris State Park and teaches Eng and Etiquette and Manners at the University. Hurray for Genie! He also added that her pretty clothes are envy of all the women in town. Maybe I should have come to Brookings sooner . . . but then I AM a rather hopeless case.

My, what a fancy bowling alley Brookings rates . . . I always wished for one in my high school days. Guess I'll try my hand at it . . . Say, that proprietor looks familiar—Gene Gould! I never could imagine what he would be doing in 10 years . . . And there are all his model ships and airplanes on exhibition (just some more of "46's" talent) attracting attention. Well, Congratulations, Gene!

CARROLL REEKMAN
Class President, 2; Class Vice-president, 2, 4; Assistant Athletic Manager, 4; Basketball, 4, 3, 4; Annual Staff, 4.

Senior Class of 1946

EUGENIA MOORE
Transferred from Wisconsin; Student Body President, 4; Class Treasurer, 4; Annual Staff, 4; Glee Club, 4 One-Act Play, 4; Volleyball, 4.

I never realized it, but I'm getting hungry . . . The thrill of meeting so many of my classmates has made me forget I was so hungry . . . (There goes the rest of my money for the old watch) Wait! That large neon sign "Eat at Slimbo's"—maybe that's Slim (another of our class brains—smart class 46 was). I imagined he would end up doing something connected with his favorite it—FOOD!

Well, if my jalopy will hold out, I think I'll go out and see if I can locate Genie Moore's home—Now, Bill said out by Harris Park—I guess going right. . . It's been so long since I've done this I've almost forgotten. . . Oh, that must be it . . . Say, it IS beautiful those lawns, trees and flowers and that beautiful view slays me . . .

And imagine, Brookings rates a large swimming pool, too . . . I see "Victor Anderson, Instructor"—last classmate—and he has a proud profession, too. He always was a good swimmer and must be a good instructor . . . no doubt. Brookings must be the place to be . . . evidently . . . The class of "46" (pardon the exception of me) certainly holds up its proud year of honor and distinction. The future as seen through the "glass ball" has been fruitful. Three cheers for the Class of "46"!

VICTOR ANDERSON
Class Treasurer, 3; Glee Club, 4.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Here I am, about to enter the great metropolis of Brookings—in my old Ford of 1940 vintage, and penniless—yes, that's right—absolutely penniless. Life just hasn't treated me so well, but I'm anxious to see how my classmates of the graduating class of '46 have made out. Considerably better, no doubt—I always thought Brookings held a special attraction, too. I'll always remember those good old days in high school. Take my advice—you'll have the most fun there ever!

Whew! That's a huge truck that just whizzed past—and—oops! There goes my hat! And here comes another! Well, can you beat that—it looks like Edward Freeman, Inc. "Coast To Coast Hauling." I always knew he would end up with trucks, trucks, and TRUCKS!

And what's this . . . "Mabel's Sewing Shop." My, what an attractive place and so ideally located. Looks real prosperous, too. I always thought Mabel Kinion would be a success—quite. I had a hunch she would arrive at such a destination. Of all the luck! This old Ford insists on water again and it makes so much noise! Lucky this time though . . . There's a big garage and service
