Members of Coos Electric Co-op:

We are making progress, however slow, toward completion of the lines in the immediate vicinity. Materials are slowly coming in—permitting us to keep our eight-man crew going every day, but still too slow to permit us completion of the lines as we go along.

With your co-operation, since this is also your co-op, realization of an early completion also is up to you, how much you are able to locate any of those vital materials needed in line construction. Please do what you can, it'll be appreciated by everyone, as well as by your own self.

Poles are being set in the main part of town this week, as you have noticed.

This is your co-op, it is your duty to help in any way you can, at any time.
