Local News Items

Mary Ettinger has returned to Brookings after several weeks visit at valley points.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Brainard, and L. B. Houseley, went to Snow Camp and Wild-horse Lookouts, last week-end, camping overnight at Alpine Springs, at the foot of Snow Camp mountain. Going north on the coast highway, they turned off at Pistol River store, from which both lookouts are the same distance, 29 miles. They report the road as good as any county road for the whole distance. To the lookout at Snow Camp, Bill Lane, they took a small stock of fresh vegetables and berries and latest papers. Lane has been lookout at that point over 15 years and the splendid view of the county was much enjoyed. At Wild-horse, Douglas Meesrvey, of Illahe, is the lookout, and the view down the Rogue canyon must be seen to be appreciated. Snow Camp, at 4400 feet, as well as Wild-horse, at 3800 feet, has a road directly to the lookout house.
