

OCTOBER
 ne one
 RY S. TE ent:
 acting Se
 d two som visited her with the

Brookings-Harbor Pilot

Always For A More Progressive Brookings-Harbor Area!

One, Number Thirty-Two.

BROOKINGS, CURRY COUNTY, OREGON

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1946

West Coast Bulb Growers Revise Price Schedule

Revision Made To Meet Setback Which Faces Industry

Last week, to combat serious setbacks the industry has had to face, the West Coast Bulb Growers announced a revision of bulb prices.

The directors of the association in session all day last Wednesday and came out with a list, designed to meet the elements of competition. It is said that due to the lack of national demand for locally grown bulbs, competition from bulbs grown in the south and imitation of bulbs grown outside the United States, it was necessary to reduce prices to offset competition.

Following is the official revision of the 1946 harvest, f. o. b. rail at Arcata:

| No. in case            | Price to Forcers | Price to Jobbers |
|------------------------|------------------|------------------|
| CROFT           |                  |                  |
| 250                    | $112.50         | $75.00          |
| 200                    | 120.00           | 80.00            |
| 150                    | 112.50           | 75.00            |
| 100                    | 90.00            | 60.00            |
| ROYAL           |                  |                  |
| 300                    | 112.50           | 75.00            |
| 250                    | 112.50           | 75.00            |
| 200                    | 105.00           | 70.00            |
| 150                    | 90.00            | 60.00            |
| KENYON-DAVIDSON |                  |                  |
| 300                    | 90.00            | 60.00            |
| 250                    | 93.75            | 62.50            |
| 200                    | 105.00           | 70.00            |
| 150                    | 90.00            | 60.00            |
| ESTATES         |                  |                  |
| 250                    | 93.75            | 62.50            |
| 200                    | 90.00            | 60.00            |
| 150                    | 78.75            | 52.50            |
| 100                    | 60.00            | 40.00            |

High School Will Soon Publish First Newspaper

Students will commence work on a week-end toward publication of the first high school paper, to be issued about a week from Saturday, if things materialize as planned.

Mr. Church, editor, and Joan Sabin, associate, are making up the staff from the students interested in journalism. Jimmy Vincent, photographer, will have pictures of the student officers and class officers in the first issue, it was announced this week.

Business men of the area will be invited for advertising within the next week, and likely subscription agents may tackle every door for a year's subscription. Other high school activities announced will be a carnival, the proceeds for which hasn't been determined and a Halloween dance, to be staged October 31 at the high school gym. Tickets for this event will be on sale soon.

Jimmy Sabin of Gold Beach, a business caller here Wednesday afternoon, will be a Boy-Scout father next Monday at IOOF at 7:30 p. m. in honor of the retiring scoutmaster, Larry Metson to leave here.

Stotenburg Denies He Cut Bulb Prices Here

Stout denial to rumors that his sale to Mr. Rader of Michell & Co., of Philadelphia, was voiced to the Pilot Wednesday morning by E. H. "Bill" Stotenburg, who produced a memorandum from his check for lily bulbs purchased by this buyer. Listed are:

6273 seven-inch Croft bulbs at 30c for a total of $1881.90; 4952 eight-inch Croft Bulbs at 50c for a total of $2426.00; 1296 nine-inch Croft bulbs at 66.6c for $864.00; 151 ten-inch at 82c for $115.62.

Contending that this rumor is unfounded, vicious and much to his discredit, Mr. Stotenburg has placed an advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

Langlois Man Dies Suddenly Monday

LANGLOIS — Joseph Walter White passed away early Monday morning at Leep Memorial hospital at Bandon after an extended illness.

Born at Clinton, Ill., he was 64 years, 10 months and 9 days at the time of his death. He came to Langlois from California about 52 years ago, settling on a ranch on the hill up Floras Creek. In his later years he lived with his brother, Jake, in town. During the past year he has been interested in lilies.

Known as "Cox" to all his intimate friends, he was gifted in wood carving, having made many keepsakes, cedar chests and violins, one of the most beautiful of which was made from local myrtlewood.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph White, two sisters, Mrs. Martha Hofess, Mrs. Cora Conrad of Oakland, Calif. a brother, John. Surviving are his brothers and sisters, Jacob, James, Mrs. Lydia Hofess of Langlois, Mrs. Mary A. Chenoweth of Gold Beach and Mrs. Leah Sabin of Langlois.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at the Langlois community church. Pall bearers were John Donaldson of Denmark, Art Aldropp, Phillip Cope, Milton Brown and Henry A. Olphson of Elk River. Interment was in the family plot at the Denmark cemetery.

Langlois Child Scalds Her Leg

LANGLOIS—Little Henry, 13-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Strain, received serious scalds on his legs Tuesday while playing at the kitchen sink at the home on Star Ranch, while his mother had gone to the garden for vegetables.

Susie, an older sister, ran for her mother when the accident occurred. It was believed that the child had decided he would try to wash his feet.

He was rushed to Leep Memorial hospital, Bandon, for medical attention, where he was kept for the night with his mother at his bedside.

He is reported to be recovering well at this time.

Read Pilot Classified Adv.

Legion Inducts New Members At Meeting, Monday

Pot Luck Dinner Served By Legion Auxiliary, Later

Following a pot luck dinner, served by the Legion Auxiliary, Chetco Post, No. 138, Monday evening, obligated 15 world war 2 veterans, at the meeting, held at Harbor Grange Hall. They, with branch of service, were:

- Archie Diment—navy.
- Edgar Storslet—army.
- Elmer Hanscam—army.
- Robert Sheehan—navy.
- Farrell Sunderland—navy.
- Homer Johnson—army.
- Robert Sloan—army.
- Don Carson—army.
- Jess Hoagland—army.
- Leo Spangler—army.
- V. A. Mendenhall Jr.—army.
- Edgar Thornton—navy.
- N. G. Abbott—navy.
- Lyle Redfield Jr.—army.
- Don Johnson—navy.

Doing the honors in giving the degree team from Cave Junction Legion ritualistic work was the post, consisting of:

- Les Henry, Art Keller, Morris Sauer, Blake Miller, Clement Arnold and Knapp Wolly.
- District President Visits Unit
- Mrs. Christina Micelli, of Roseburg, district president, visited the local Legion Auxiliary unit Monday evening, on her official visit. She was accompanied here by her mother, Mrs. Russell.

Child Killed While Crossing Highway

LANGLOIS—Sharon, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fain, of Port Orford, was killed Monday, when she and her sister, Margaret, started to cross the highway, hand-in-hand, after alighting from the school bus. When she was struck by the car driven by Miss Ireland of Gold Beach, her sister Margaret, jerked free.

While she was rushed to the hospital, it was of no avail.

Sharon and her sister were new members of Langlois grade school. Their father is building a new home on the highway, north of Langlois, where the accident occurred. In July Mrs. Fain brought her daughters from Los Angeles, where they had been living, to join their father at Port Orford, staying at the Hamlet while the home was under construction.

Besides her parents, and sister, she is survived by two grandmothers and a grandfather, also a host of new friends in both Langlois and Port Orford, who extend heartfelt sympathy.

Graveside services were held at the Masonic cemetery at Port Orford, with Rev. E. E. Rosenkilde officiating.

Mouth of Chetco Now Free Of Sand Block

The mouth of the Chetco river, closed by sands washed there by the sea, was opened Wednesday, mostly by the sea itself, with some work being done by members of the Chetco Rod & Gun club.

In The Mail-Box:

Open letter to all members of the Coos Electric Co-op in the Brookings-Harbor area.

On Saturday, Oct. 5, I attended the annual meeting of our co-operatives at Coquille. The meeting was called for 10 a. m. but no business was even attempted until 2:15 p. m., prior to which we had two reels of motion pictures, by courtesy of the Bonneville administration, and a talk by the Coos County Agent. About 2:15 p. m. the co-operative attorney, Mr. Berg, advised all present to that those persons who had cast their votes for directors by mail or otherwise, in which, less than nine names had been marked, and on which any write-ins were made, would be thrown out and not counted.

This, of course, resulted in discussion. At this time there were approximately 25 members present from the Port Orford area, only three members present from Brookings-Harbor area, and some 60 members present from the Coquille and adjacent areas. After a brief discussion between the members present and the officers of the Coos Electric Co-op, upon advice of the Co-operative attorney, all motions were declared out of order, the ballots as mailed to members were declared illegal.

However, any blame that they were illegally prepared and printed was assumed by the manager of the Co-op, Mr. Connarn, who said that it was a mistake on his part and that after 6½ years as being manager, he was entitled to one mistake.

Those present were also informed that all ballots from whatever source which did not have an X before nine names out of the 12 listed were invalid and that all ballots from whatever source which had "write-ins" were also invalid. From the floor of the meeting requests were made to define a legal ballot, also to define so-called geographic areas, the nominee for director from such geographical areas, also the number of co-operative members residing in each such area. No such questions were answered.

Those members present were told that they had the privilege of voting new ballots if their original ones were incorrect. This, of course, would deprive all of those balloting by mail of a privilege of changing their ballots or otherwise expressing through their representatives present who were not authorized to be proxies.

After much discussion a motion was finally permitted to be made, to declare the entire election invalid and instructed the board of directors to call another election at the earliest possible moment, such election to be voted with legal ballots and with complete instructions as to what would constitute a legal vote.

This motion lost by a vote of 31 to 40, all of the "yes" votes coming from Curry county members and the "No" votes from the Coos county members.

It appears that out of this meeting came the following facts; that the management of the Coos Electric Co-op may make a "mistake" (the first in 6½ years of service) but that the honest and rightful voting is "illegal." There probably is an answer to our local electric problems but I fail to see it unless those persons who wish better electric service in the

Grants Pass Defies CPA 'Stop Work' Building Orders

CPA Men Reported Staying Away From Building Scenes

GRANTS PASS — Tuesday saw more workmen busily at work behind "no trespassing" signs, put up Monday, two days after the civilian production administration deadline for compliance with the "stop work" orders.

An automobile trip around the outlying districts where heaviest concentration of building is going on disclosed no sign of CPA enforcement officials who Galen S. Geller, Seattle regional compliance manager, had said would be here Monday to force the issue. Hotel registers did not reveal any CPA men, at least none identified themselves as such.

Some Work Cancelled
 Work had stopped on some unauthorized buildings as well as on some that CPA permits were posted, but C. W. Thornberry, manager of the Grants Pass and Josephine County chamber of commerce, said in many cases it was for lack of materials.

Investigation disclosed that so many of the builders who had joined the "Citizens Protective association" in revolt against governmental restrictions on building were openly continuing their work.

At least 25 home and commercial structures, identified by Thornberry as lacking permits were included. Those checked were on main highway approaches to this city and thus more accessible for CPA agents, although local sources said most of the building was being done on lanes and by-paths in the suburban area.

Cavemen Issue "Permits"
 Many of the places, in addition to large "no trespassing" signs, had big red-lettered placards with the words: "Authorized by Oregon Cavemen, Citizens Protective association, American Bill of Rights."
 At this time "It's All Quiet on the Western Front."

Support Bill Topic At P.-T. A. Meeting, Friday

The proposed State School Support bill, widely publicized in the last issue of the Pilot, was the topic discussed at the first fall meeting of the local P.-T. A. Friday evening at the school, when a fair crowd was present.

Continued support of the measure by this group, together with the Legion and VFW is pledged. The bill is aimed to raise the monetary support of the state schools without adding it to the already heavily taxed real property.

Mrs. Louvilla Durksen of San Jose, Calif., cousin of Mrs. A. E. Sandbo, and Pvt. James Hocker of Steelton, Pa., visited at the Sandbo home for the past week.

Brookings-Harbor area are willing to fight for what they want, and take more direct and personal interest in such affairs. Signed: Charles T. M. Echols.