It's Another Test Case For The People

Defiance of CPA orders at Grants Pass puts another test case of government agencies up before the public—and predictions at this time are that CPA will fare the same way OPA did when it ordered restaurants to roll back prices to those of June 30.

The public, during the war, was liberal—it took anything without kicking, but now, when soldiers and sailors are home, seeking to establish themselves in the "American way" of life, people find more hindrances from a bunch at Washington who do not know the score, have no practical knowledge, and seem not to care.

If veterans were getting materials to build homes, if the public could only be sure of such, then it is not likely that Grants Pass would be the guinea pig in this nation-wide test case.

Perhaps defiance on part of Grants Pass isn't the answer, but since every movement must start from somewhere, Grants Pass is just as good a place as any to begin.

The Buyers' Market Is Coming

Certain events which have transpired during the past week have brought out the calamity howlers, predicting dire things for this community, this nation and the world. Please analyze!

The world is now passing through, or about to pass through that transition period when the world is changing from a sellers' market to a buyers' market. Such is nearly always true when all past labor troubles have been experienced. Such is true today.

People have concluded, and are concluding that they will pay only so much for a commodity. Sellers are beginning to realize this to be true, and right now the period has begun, whether noticeable or not to the average citizen. Watch trends for the next year!

Beat the Letter-Writing chore, do this simply by subscribing to the Pilot for those relatives, and friends!
