

Holiday Shopping Will Surprise All Local Residents

Displays of Local Business Firms Will Amaze All Shoppers

Christmas shoppers, going out to buy gifts for first time since 1941, under peace-time conditions, will find Brookings and Harbor better than the average when it comes to finding things to buy.

Featuring gifts for the past few weeks have been such firms as Chetco Home and Auto Supply Co., Moore's Variety and Apparel Shop, Smith Department Store, Ward's Clothing Store, as well as the electrical stores, V. A. Mendenhall and Curry County Electric Co.

Surprising, when one visits any of these stores, is the amount and variety of goods. Under conditions such as have plagued the country these past few months, it is just amazing the amount of goods to be found on the local market.

If local people, planning to buy presents this year, were to shop, and find nothing to suit, were to ask the proprietors of the local firms, certainly time remains to make an effort to order.

Clothing is always acceptable, and locally Moore's Variety, Bill Ward's Clothing and Smith Department Store, can do a fair-to-good job, no matter what the desires may be.

Electrically, Christmas will be well cared for here. The two electrical stores, as well as the Chetco Home and Auto Supply Co., have "most anything."

In the furniture line, and who doesn't like an occasional chair, or some piece of furniture, will find Hendricks Furniture Co. just about complete with suggestions. Alert to needs, and always trying to buy new goods, Archie Hendricks has built up a stock which would do justice to towns many times the size of Brookings.

The old standby, Hanscam's, is always good for plenty of gift suggestions. A visit to that store will help solve some of the problems troubling shoppers.

uring toys to extent, has plenty of gift suggestions. What woman has ever had too much perfume and those dainty cosmetics they like so well?

Shopping, locally, for Christmas people will find that they have been well provided for.

Dressed Turkeys Await Forthcoming "Shoot"

Already on hand for the forthcoming Chetco Rod & Gun Club turkey shoot, set for Sunday, November 24, are about 200 dressed turkeys, ready for the oven after the housewife does the "stuffing".

At the meeting, Tuesday evening committees and more plans were laid for the event, announcement of which will be made in the next issue of the Pilot.

Rocketeers Bill Model Contest

It was announced today by the President of the Brookings Rocketeers, that a contest committee will be appointed in view of a Xmas Holiday contest which will be held.

Prizes will be given for workmanship and finish in both the solid and flying model divisions.

It is hoped that at least one of the gas engine powered models which are under construction will be completed so the community may be given a little exhibition flying.

Further details of the contest and also progress will be reported in the Pilot.

Local News Items

Joe Bush, of Bush Lily Gardens, is spending the winter at Parker, Arizona, looking after business interests in that area.

Mouth of the Chetco River was opened yesterday afternoon by members of the Chetco Rod and Gun Club, with shovels. The group picked time at a minus tide to perform the act. Salmon, it is hoped, will be able to come up the river now.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale Hendrickson and family of Dayton, were weekend visitors of his sister, Mrs. Sam Gott and family, on Easy Street.

Tourists from Willamette valley, and other points over Oregon have remarked, while stopping here, about the beautiful fall weather. Radio reports of conditions about the nation, point out again that this area is an ideal place to live. Snow hampers the mountains, Los Angeles, which usually has a "corner" on weather, is wiping off the precipitation in tubfuls.

The Bankus house, being remodeled by Mason & Edwards, is nearing completion at its new site, near the Woody Cabins. This house will be occupied by Mrs. Mildred Byrne and daughters after it is completed.

Inquiries, coming to the local chamber of commerce concerning opportunities in this area, and especially for lily planting stock,

Grange Dance

Saturday Eve, November 16th Harbor Grange The Good Time Is Assured You!

have been turned over to the Pilot, which will send copies of paper.

In The Mail-Box:

Editor, Pilot: I'll agree with whoever put that piece in the paper about someone killing our pets. I think there should be something done about it as long as they're not bothering bors.

I know, as I had one of best little dogs this side of Chetco, and one of my neighbors shot him for spite. Our dogs a rule, do not hurt anyone surely our cats do no harm.

Killing a dog with a license is no worse than killing a cat anything else. Let's all come the other fellow, and put a to all this killing. Mrs. Ash Jackson, Box 72, Harbor.

Box stationery, printed to your individual order. Suitable Christmas gifts. Priced from upward, depending on amount. Pilot Office.
