THANKSGIVING In Brookings

Thanksgiving time is here again To make us pause and think, Of the very numerous blessings Here in Brookings so unique.

What a joy the morning sunshine As it falls upon the sea. Like a diamond how it glistens, What more beautiful could be?

In the daytime's closing moments When the sun is going down What a gorgeous range of colors Can be seen from this old town.

Then we have hills and mountains Trees, the myrtles and the pines To compel our admiration Fill our hearths with peace.

Then in summer when the lilies Fill the air with perfume rare They delight our eyes with beauty Loveliness beyond compare.

There is welcome for the stranger Or the lonely in this town, If they give us half a trial We will never let them down.

 "Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 10.
 The Golden Text was, "If by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gifts of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ" Rom. 5:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them" Gen. 1:26,27).
 The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spiritually followed, the book of Genesis is the history of the untrue image of God, named sin-ful mortal. This deflection of being, rightly viewed, serves to suggest the proper reflection of God and the spiritual actuality of man, as given in the first chapter of Genesis" (page 502).
