a British airfield. It is the story of the Britons who manned the furious little Spitfires that held off the Germans at the beginning of the war; and of the Yanks who, later, flew B17s alongside the British Lancasters. It is the story of the intense impact of the war on lives and loves of a small group of British and American air men.

Douglass Montgomery portrays Johnny Hollis with tender and yet passionate perception. Thru him we see how the Yanks and Britons began to understand and like each other. And yet thru him is also portrayed a beautiful and wistful love story.

While Out Shopping

By Grace Polley Stevenson

How I'd like to be a professional shopper and buy gifts for givers. I'd linger about the Chetco Home & Auto Supply Co. and indulge in several pieces of their new hand-finished spun aluminum, in trays, boxes and baskets. Their sculptured cases in art-ware by Phoenix are simply beautiful. Right in this section I'd find gifts for the whole family.

I am delighted with Ward's new stock as it grows bigger and better. Men, if you are looking for substantial class, see his Shan-house windbreaker jackets, also the White Stag cruisers with real trousers to match. The variety of shirts is appealing—in sport, dress and different weights of wool. Mr. Ward can make you handsomer, whatever your work.

The first place in town to put on a pre-Christmas sale is Smith Department store. For one week they sell a variety of men's and boy's clothing at a substantial discount. Their new arrivals are classy children's coats. You will find these all enumerated in their advertisements, if you'd but read.

Stopping in at Moore's Variety we find the crowded shelves give way to an overwhelming exhibit of Christmas cards and tree decorations. You'll find wrapping paper of all kinds, ribbons, stickers and seals. It puts more "Happy in Christmas" to decorate your trees as you have not since the young kiddies have been here.

You will find the Chetco Store also putting on the Christmas spirit. Their cans of Ocean Spray cranberry sauce are a bargain. If you enjoy having a good meat food canned and on hand for any occasion just try their Klamath canned steamed roast beef. They have such a supply—a can for everyone.

Just as you enter Hendricks Furniture Store you will be greeted by the first of their grand hassock display. Then, in every nook of the room you will find more hassocks of every size, color, and design. What a simple way to dispose of a Christmas gift trouble. Get a hassock. Honor some special one and all the family can use it.

When you have to call for something especially dainty and pretty, just walk up the aisles in the Brookings Market and you surely will find it. I found the loveliest fruit cakes, weighing about two pounds, light golden rich Hostess cakes. These are unusual for this year. Then they have a nice lot of marshmallow whip topping. Use it for cakes or salads. I've found it delectable. You will be surprised at getting the left-over Thanksgiving pumpkins at 5c each.

Just for a rest and a good bit of fun, see Gallagher's "fishing gear" exhibit. If you want steel-heads just now see his complete line of tackle. His lures really "lure." When this fishing expert had advised you for a leisurely hour, you turn contentedly on your homeward way.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Simmons have just returned from an extended visit to Southern California, where they spent several weeks.

Floyd Johnson, who has been visiting his folks, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Simmons, has returned to Atlanta, Ga., where he is currently stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Dolf Moade are in Medford, where he is receiving medical treatment.

A family gathering was enjoyed Thanksgiving at the Jim Allsup home, when all the children and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Baughn were present.
