Howdy, Folks: The human brain is a wonderful mechanism. It starts to function when we get up and never ceases until we start to write this column.

Perhaps our work seems a little raw, but it shouldn't—it's been roasted enough already.

Even though we're Irish, some seem to think our jokes are a little Cornish.

We like Scotch jokes and we mean jokes. Dewey and Gene told us about a young Scot, Sandy, who was just married to his Iowa sweet-heart.

It seems that Sandy took his bride to Los Angeles on his, or their, honeymoon. The only thing free in that town was the bathing on the beach, of which they partook generously, until one day when the bride went too far out.

Coast guard and police officials scoured the area for days, but Sandy had to go to Iowa to harvest his corn. It was after he arrived home that the following telegram came:

Found body of your wife. Attached thereto peculiar kind of fish. Science will pay $3000. Wire instructions. Chief of Police."

Sandy, on his trip to town, replied: "Deposit money to my credit and re-set the bait."

We offered a poem to a publisher, once. Didn't ask pay for it; just offered it as a compliment. He returned our compliment.

He said if we couldn't put more fire in to our verse, we'd better put our verse in to the fire.

Poets are born, not paid. Yeah, that's the trouble—they're born.

Well, we'd like to suggest that it will pay you to let us sell you our "Gas and Air."

Dorothy Simpson and Madge Moore sang the appropriate Christmas carols. The hall had been decorated for the occasion by the committee.

Refreshments of doughnuts and coffee completed the evening.

Woman's Club Enjoys Party, Fri.

December meeting of the Harbor Community club was held at the Grange Hall, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Virginia Murphy and Miss Ruth Cavitt were visitors for the afternoon.

It was voted to donate $5 toward the Christmas fund.

The social hour was under the leadership of Mrs. Bernice Newton and Mrs. Bess Miller, who presented an interesting account of the story of several Christmas carols, which the club sang after each had been told. Santa Claus also appeared and a gift exchange was enjoyed.
