Ethelene Thompson

Assistant, Margaret Morris; Mrs. Churchill, manager; Donald Appling, reporter and Dick Everest, sports.

Mrs. Margaret Hofsess who gives private piano lessons at the gym has had a contest among her pupils for the past two months. Marie DeHaven and Jeanette Thompson have the most gold stars.

The annual Christmas program will be held at the gym Friday night, Dec. 20. Each room will furnish numbers and everyone is invited.

Miss Anna K. Isaaksen, field representative of the Pacific area of the American Red Cross, visited school last week and showed many articles made by school children for the sick and homeless. The local schools has received a dozen boxes to fill with gifts.

Port Orford grades defeated our team, 19 to 11, Tuesday at basketball, but the girls won the volleyball game, 28 to 7.

Kenneth Thompson installed horizontal bars at the gym this week. The kiddies are taking advantage of this equipment.

Christmas vacation begins December 21 and school will resume Jan. 2.

TEEN-AGE PARTY SUCCESS

The teen-age party, held at the grade gym Friday was attended by 32 children and chaperoned by Mrs. Archie DeHaven, Mrs. A. E. Volck and M. S. Donna Churchill. The evening was spent playing games and dancing. Potato salad, sandwiches, cookies and kool-aid were served.

FLORAS WILLOW CLUB

Floras Willow Club met last Thursday at the club room. Members were surprised to enter the club room and to find it cleverly decorated in holiday air of evergreen, tinsel and red feltons. The long dining table was covered with white table cloth with small Christmas tree as centerpiece.

Upon arrival of Mrs. Mae Woodruff, a confession was made that it was her idea to surprise the members. With the assistance of Mrs. Rilla McConnell they made the idea a reality. A vote of thanks was extended to them.

A bountiful pot luck dinner was enjoyed at noon. A number was drawn for the attendance prize, which was a large bath towel, received by Mrs. Edwin Hayes.

A gift exchange preceded the business meeting.

Mrs. Dorothy Kuhn, president, had charge of the meeting. A report was made by the nominating committee. New officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Dorothy Kuhn, president (re-elected); Mrs. Rilla McConnell, vice-president; Mrs. Esther Phillips and Mrs. Ethelene Thompson were re-elected secretary and treasurer. The club voted to buy the customary $50 bond to fight T. B. and pay all current bills.

Guests for the day were Mrs. Helen Fain, Mrs. Pauline Anderson and Mrs. Edwin Hayes. Mrs. Fain and Mrs. Anderson accepted the invitation to become members.

The next regular meeting will be held Jan. 9. Everyone is asked to come and bring a covered dish for dinner, and needle and thread to work on bazaar articles.

POSTS HAVE ADVANCED...

... But Telephone Rates Have Not Kept Pace

Today most of our subscribers still pay the same rates as were in effect in 1918. Our rate schedules in almost every exchange are from 20 to 28 years old.

During this period of time—85% of our system has been completely replaced . . . Maintenance costs have increased 54% . . . Cost of operating switchboards has increased 110% . . . Actual cost of installing each telephone has increased 148% . . . Hourly wages have increased 161%.

We have always resisted rate increases, but increased operating costs have forced us to ask for moderate advances.

We are doing everything possible to again make our service the finest in the nation. We are adding new lines and equipment as fast as telephone material becomes available. We, the employees of your telephone company, wish to express our appreciation for your understanding and cooperation.
